NO SQUARE DEAL GIVEN THE SOUTH BY THE RAILWAYS

So Declare Engineers Wallace and O'Dell Who, Are Studying Transportation Situation.

MILLIONS MUST BE SPENT BY THE SOUTHERN ROADS

Or South Will Not Advance In Accordance With Her Possibilities --- Financial Powers That Control Accused of Niggardly Policy in Dealing With the South.

Tampa, Fla., March 15.—(Special.)—Richard H. Edmonds, editor of The Manufacturers' Record, who is visiting Tampa, spent today on a special train with the noted engineers, John F. Wallace and J. T. O'Dell, visiting the phosphate interests in this section, and sent tonight to The Manufacturers' Record an interview with Messrs. Wallace and O'Dell as to the railway situation in the south.

Studying the Seaboard System.

John F. Wallace, for fourteen years chief engineer and general manager of the Illinois Central railroad, a man who had much to do with the expenditure of $100,000,000 in the rebuilding and enlargement of that system, who resigned from that road to become chief engineer of the Pan-American canal, and J. T. O'Dell, formerly general manager of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, an adviser of capitalists interested in railroad enterprises, are in the south making a study of the Seaboard system. Mr. Wallace made an investigation of the Seaboard and reported on its possibilities for the reorganization company when the company went into the receivers' hands a few years ago, but this is Mr. O'Dell's first investigation of this system.

Probably no man in the country, however, is more familiar from an analytical investigation of the railroad reports and methods than is Mr. O'Dell with the whole railroad system of the south Atlantic states.

Railroad Situation in South.

In a talk with these gentlemen on the general railroad situation in the south and the railroad possibilities of this section, they gave an exceedingly interesting review of the whole matter.

"The freight traffic of the south would double within ten years if the railroads of the south would permit it," was the striking statement made by Mr. O'Dell in discussing the developments of this section and the inadequate facilities of the railroads south of the Ohio and Potomac rivers to keep in advance of the growth of the country.

"The railroads," added Mr. O'Dell, "instead of being leaders in southern development are, by reason of their condition, taxed even now to their ability to handle traffic and are not at present making provision for the inevitable growth of the south, a growth which will be halted to some extent, or at least retarded, unless the southeastern railroads are developed on a very much broader basis than has yet been done and without a vast expenditure in advance to take care of increased business, further growth would result in a congestion of business and a breaking down of railroad transportation facilities.

Powers That Control to Blame.

"The possibilities of the south in the way of material development are practically without limit, but the financiers who control the railways of the south do not seem fully to have realized what can be done in this section in the creation of traffic and the lessening of the cost of handling it by providing adequate facilities. This should not be charged to the operating officers of the southern railroads, but to the fact that they have been handicapped through lack of money to rebuild and reconstruct southern railroads along modern lines of efficiency.

"There is no question in my mind as to the correctness of the statement made that the railway business of the south would be doubled within ten years if the railroads themselves did not stand in the way. The resources are here, the development of the country as a whole justifies such a growth and it is entirely possible for it to be brought about, provided the railroads become leaders in the south's development by providing the facilities needed for the handling of the traffic upon an economical basis. Unless they do this there must be stagnation in the industrial and agricultural progress of the south as compared with the almost limitless progress that could be made.

"There is no other section of the United States in which the physical condition of the railroads and the mileage of existing roads are so inadequate to the situation as in the southeastern states from Virginia to the Mississippi river.

South Responds to Railway Investment.

Emphasizing what Mr. O'Dell had just said about the railroads' conditions in the south, Mr. Wallace added that there was no section in the country in which the railroad business responded more promptly through increased earnings to the investment of new money. He called attention to the fact that three years ago when he made his report on the

KINGSTON WIPED OUT BY FLAMES

Only Two Stores Remain Untouched.

Wind-Driven Fire Eats Its Way Through Town's Business District --- Losses Approximate $65,000 --- DeSoto Hotel Destroyed.

Kingston, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—With a strong north wind fanning the flames to fury, a fire which broke out in the Victor house shortly after noon today, gained such headway that before 3:30 o'clock the entire business portion of this little city, with $65,000 worth of property, was reduced to smoking ruins. There are only two stores left standing from which the people of Kingston may draw supplies until relief comes for them.

Following is a list of losses:

R. R. Whitehead, $2,500, insurance $1,500; J. N. McKelvey, $3,000, insurance, $1,200; De Soto Hotel, $7,000, insurance $5,000; Barrett & Bingham, $2,000, no insurance; Martin Bros., $1,000, no insurance; Yarbrough & Baxter, $500, no insurance; Dardin's livery stable, $200, no insurance; W. A. Jolly, $12,000, insurance $4,000; the Witham Bank, $500; J. D. Rollins, $5,000; Jarrell's Barber shop, $100, no insurance; W. H. Griffin, $10,000, insurance, $5,500; Dr. Arnold, $1,500, insurance $600; Jas. D. Rogers, $500, no insurance; Ben Cox, $500, no insurance; Mrs. Marie T. Gilliam, residence, $800; Mrs. Mary Joe Hall, vacant residence, $500; Dr. J. D. Bradley, two stores, $500; B. B. Branson, $500; L. O. Robertson, barber, loss $50.

It is not known how the fire originated. The blaze was discovered burning by an unused chimney. It is thought by some that a passing engine might have let out a spark that started the blaze.

The De Soto hotel, built by a company, had just been occupied one month. The proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Haynes, had invested $1,600 in the furnishings of the building.

A number of residences caught from flying embers.

PREACHERS HOLD BIG AUDIENCES

Intense Interest in Discussion of Bible.

Drs. Kemp, Coburn and Morgan Hold and Thrill Great Audiences at Baptist Tabernacle Meetings --- Some New Thoughts on Bible Study.

With a daring and original interpretation of the eighteenth chapter of Genesis in which he stressed the intimate and friendly relations between God and Abraham therein depicted, Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, at the Tabernacle last night, made a strong appeal for closer communion between men and the Almighty.

"God," said Dr. Morgan, "needs nothing,—but yet He still needs our love. God is seeking our entertainment today as He sought that of Abraham formerly. He is hungry for our love and praise."

"Have you ever noticed how hard it is to praise God?" he asked. "Try to get people to praise God and after two or three sentences they are asking for something. Even thanksgiving is not praise."

An Overflow Audience.

An overflow audience filled the Tabernacle as usual, so great is the hold that the great London divine has taken upon the people of Atlanta. When Dr. Len G. Broughton made a short introductory talk he jokingly regretted that he would not be able to repeat Dr. Morgan's sermons before a Tabernacle audience.

"I am at a great disadvantage," he said, "in this respect, because my people have heard Dr. Morgan's sermons, but I see lots of other parsons here who are making notes of them. I'm going to Athens next week just so I can practice a few of them myself."

Dr. Morgan's text was Genesis, xvi'i:1: "And the Lord appeared unto him by the plains of Mamre; and He sat in the tent door in the heat of the day."

LORIMER UNFIT, SAYS ROOSEVELT

And Ex-Governor Haskell Is Also Termed Unfit.

The Colonel Says the Election of Lorimer and Haskell Was a Disgrace to the Communities Which Named Them. Favors Popular Elections.

Albuquerque, N. M., March 15.—Colonel Roosevelt paid his respects by name to Senator Lorimer, of Illinois, and former Governor Haskell, of Oklahoma, tonight. He denounced both as unfit to hold public office. Their election, he said, was a disgrace to the communities which elected them.

The denunciation was made in the course of Colonel Roosevelt's address to an audience which crowded the opera house and left hundreds standing outside.

Turning to the duties which the citizens of New Mexico must take up when the territory becomes a state, Colonel Roosevelt warned his hearers that while good laws are necessary, good citizenship must back them up. He said that unfit men had been elected to office both by popular and representative vote. Such a man remained unfit for office, he said, whether he is unfit as Mr. Lorimer is unfit, who was elected by the legislature of Illinois, or as Mr. Haskell is unfit, who was elected by popular vote.

He declared for direct election of United States senators. In this connection he said New York offered an object lesson.

"With direct election," he said, "somebody would have been elected senator from that state."

HER SUIT FOR $250,000 HAS BEEN DISMISSED

Kansas City, Mo., March 15.—Formal dismissal of the $250,000 alienation suit of Mrs. Hattie Dunwody Cole, against Mrs. Louise C. Cole, formerly Mrs. Jarvis Hunt, of Chicago, was entered in the circuit court here ttoday. This is the case wherein the first wife of Howard G. Cole, a wealthy lumberman, sued his second wife.

Suit was brought here last March, because at that time Mrs. Louise C. Cole and her husband were living here. They are now said to be in their home in Jacksonville, Fla. She was divorced from Jarvis Hunt, the architect, on October 6, 1909.

FROM ATLANTA TO SAVANNAH

Railway Men Believe Seaboard Will Get Line.

Though Blair, of the Macon, Dublin and Savannah, and Portous, of the Seaboard, Say Atlanta Extension Hasn't Yet Been Considered.

New York, March 15.—(Special.)—James A. Blair, Jr., president of the Macon, Dublin and Savannah railroad, leaves for Georgia early next week on a tour of inspection. Mr. Blair was asked today as to the foundation for the reports that the Seaboard Air Line intended to extend the Macon, Dublin and Savannah, from Macon to Atlanta, thus giving a new through line between Savannah and Atlanta.

He said with a smile:

"I have read the reports as to plans for the extension of the Macon, Dublin and Savannah with a good deal of interest. I regret to say, however, that there is no foundattion for them. We have not given the question of extension to Atlanta any consideration up to this time, and will not, so far as I am able to see now, at least for some time to come, if at all.

No Negotiations With Southern.

"There are no negotiations pending so far as I know for traffic arrangements with the Southern, other than those which are already in existence."

Mr. D. C. Portous, secretary of the Seaboard Air Line, said today:

"So far as I know there is no truth whatever in the suggestion that the Seaboard Air Line contemplates an extension to Macon to meet the Macon, Dublin and Savannah and making a new through line to Savannah. I think I would know of any such plan if it was contemplated. The same thing applies to reports of any different traffic arrangements than those now existing with the Southern."

To Investigate Conditions.

Despite the denials of Messrs. Blair and Portous, the impression is strong among railroad men here, who are thoroughly acquainted with the situation in Georgia that the Seaboard will at an early time extend its lines from Atlanta to Savannah. It is intimated, in fact, that Mr. Blair's coming trip to Georgia is partially, at least, with a view to making a thorough investigation as to conditions.

SHE SUES FORMER INNKEEPER FOR LOSS OF DIAMOND GARTER

The loss of a diamond garter by Mrs. M. E. Whitman, who lives at the Peachtree Inn, is the cause of a suit which has been instituted by her against R. G. Edwards, of 6 Hunnicutt street, who was proprietor of the hotel at the time the jewel is alleged to have been taken from Mrs. Whitman.

The suit has been brought in Judge Ridley's court, and claims, it is said, that the garter was worth $75, being elaborately ornamented with diamonds. The papers were filed several days ago and the case will be heard next Monday.

Mr. Edwards said last night that Mrs. Whitman claimed that the garter was lost on the 17th of last June, while he was proprietor of the inn. He stated that he did not know why Mrs. Whitman had waited so long before bringing suit, nor did he know anything about the loss of the garter. Mrs. Whitman was out all the evening and it was impossible to secure a statement from her as to how her garter had been lost.

GOVERNOR DENIES STRIPLING RIGHT TO STAY IN JAIL?

Report Is Current That Governor Brown Has Refused Prisoner Respite.

HE HAS MAILED DECISION BUT IS SILENT ABOUT IT

Stripling's Counsel to Urge the Prison Commission for Early Hearing of Application for a Pardon---Hundreds of Atlantans Sign Their Names to Petition Circulated Wednesday.

Has Governor Brown declined to grant a respite to Thomas Edgar Stripling, now in jail at Columbus, who, through his counsel, Attorney T. T. Miller, requested that he be allowed to remain in jail until his application for pardon can be heard by the prison commission?

Although he declined to make any statement regarding the matter, it was reported Wednesday afternoon that the governor had declined to take any action in the matter, and it was further reported that the governor had informed Stripling's counsel that any delay in beginning the service of the life sentence for murder, which Stripling evaded by escaping from the Harris county jail fourteen years ago, must be taken up with the prison commission.

Stripling's request that he be allowed to remain in jail until his application for pardon can be heard, instead of immediately beginning the service of his sentence in the state penitentiary, was filed with the governor by Attorney Miller several days ago.

Governor Is Silent.

Tuesday afternoon Governor Brown mailed a letter to the attorney in which he informed the later of his decision. What the decision was the governor stated should come from Mr. Miller, and he declined to discuss it further.

It was reported from Columbus Wednesday night that Attorney Miller, late in the afternoon, notified Stripling that he had received no communication from the governor regarding his decision, but it was further reported that Mr. Miller had immediately left for Atlanta. Efforts to locate him at the local hotels failed.

Whethe rthe governor's letter went astray or not is a matter for conjecture. It is certain that he wrote Attorney Miller Tuesday afternoon, and that in his communication he expressed himself in the matter of granting a respite for Stripling.

In the event that the governor has declined to take any action in the matter it is very probable that Stripling's counsel will make a formal request of the prison commission that Stripling's application for a pardon be set for a hearing at an early date, and that he be allowed to remain in the jail at Columbus until final action is taken.

Hundreds Sign Petition.

Hundreds of citizens of Atlanta and Fulton county will lend their influence to the concerted effort which is being made in many parts of Georgia to secure a pardon for Thomas Edgar Stripling, former chief of police at Danville, Va., who was brought back to this state recently to begin the service of a life sentence for murder which he committed in Harris county fourteen years ago, and from which he escaped by breaking out of jail.

The circulation of a petition requesting the commission and the governor to extend a pardon to Stripling was started in Atlanta Wednesday afternoon, and before nightfall several pages of names had been signed to it.

The petition was originated at the instance of Flynn Hargett, who formerly lived in Harris county, who knew Stripling for many years before he killed W. J. Cornett, and who was present when he was being tried for the crime more than fourteen years ago.

Mr. Hargett is now living in Atlanta, but as he had other important business which demanded his attention Wednesday, he turned the petition over to W. C. Munday, a member of the local bar, and it was circulated by him Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Munday also knew Stripling before he became involved in the trouble which resulted in the killing of Cornett.

Mr. Munday intends to devote practically all his time for the next few days in the circulation of the petition and he is confident that he will have several thousand names signed to it before the time arrives for the commission to consider the application for Stripling's pardon.

Stripling's Health Wrecked.

"If I go to the penitentiary I will be a dead man in thirty days," says Stripling. "I am almost a physical wreck, and have had constant medical attention since coming to Columbus."

Stripling's chapter of accidents is almost as remarkable as the dramatic feature of his life which resulted in his being returned to answer for a crime after fourteen years of liberty and during which he had earned the respect of all who knew him.

Eighteen years ago, while railroading, he wrenched his back at a turntable at Americus, and declares that he has never recovered from it. A few years afterward a part of one foot was crushed in a railroad accident, near Birmingham, and his ankle was also broken. While a fireman at Columbus he was thrown from a truck and had three ribs broken. He pluckily went right on to another fire, but was laid up for a month.

As a street car conductor he took

BIG CONVENTION HELD BY WOODMEN

Columbian Order Now Has 16,000 Members.

Resolution Adopted Repudiating Contract Made by Former Eminent Consul Frost. New Eminent Consul, Judge W. A. Roane, Presided.

The first biennial session of the grand lodge of Eminent Household of Columban Woodmen met in the convention hall of the main offices of the order in the Rhodes building, in Atlanta, at noon on yesterday, delegates being in attendance from the various lodges or Royal Households located in each of the southern states.

The convention was called to order by the chief executive officer or eminent consul, Judge W. A. Roane, of Mississippi, and after his inaugural address, the proceedings weer formally opened with prayer by Rev. C. A. Loveless, of Texas.

The report submitted by Eminent Secretary J. G. St. Amand, of Atlanta, showed a membership of 16,000 members in good standing, and cash assets of $400,000.

Under resolutions offered by Delegate C. A. Loveless, of Texas, and unanimously adopted by the convention, plans were provided for enlarging the membership, securing a more representative basis for organizing grand lodges, and insuring strict compliance with all of the laws of the various states represented by the membership of the order.

The Frost Contract.

An animated discussion was precipitated by the resolution offered by Delegate E. E. Temple, of Mississippi, condemning the actions of former Eminent Consul J. B. Frost, in seeking to enforce a contract against the order, which contract was made at the time he was its chief executive, the resolutions undertaking to repudiate the contract, and approving the action of the board of directors or eminent council, in suspending and finally discharging Mr. Frost from office.

In the course of the discussion, the

SIX-STORY HOTEL ON SAWTELL LOT

$75,000 Structure to Go Up at Once.

J. T. Crass Announces Plans for Elegant Fireproof Building of 100 Rooms, Covering "Sawtell Corner" at Houston and Pryor Streets.

A six-story hotel as modern as any the south can boast, is to be erected in the immediate future at the southwest corner of Houston street and Pryor street. The building will cover the entire lot recently purchased by J. T. Crass and will cost in the neighborhood of $75,000.

Plans for the building have already been drawn by Haralson Bleckly, and the contract will probably be let today. Work, it is expected, will be begun not later than the first of next week and the hotel will be ready for occupancy not a day later than October 1. It is planned to work both a night and day shift, if necessary, in order to complete the structure by this time.

J. T. Crass, who last week bought this lot from the Progressive Realty Company, is to be the owner of the hotel. As to who will operate it, nothing definite is known at this time, but it is stated on excellent authority that a number of offers to lease the building for a term of years have already been made to Mr. Crass.

Small, but Elegant.

The hotel will be a comparatively small one, containing only about 100 rooms, but will make up in equipment and elegance of finish what it lacks in size. There will be nothing too good for the building, Mr. Crass states, and he expects to spare no expense to make it as good a hotel as can be found not only in Atlanta, but the entire country. There will be a bath with all but very few of the rooms, while the most modern elevator service, both freight and passenger, will be installed.

The rooms will have outside exposures and all of them will me unusually large and well lighted. Ample sample rooms and other conveniences to be found in the largest and most modern hostelries will find place in the building.

The building will be thoroughly fireproof, built of steel and pressed brick. The interior finishings will be of marble and imported walnut, which assures the beauty of the general effect. On the ground floor, it is planned to build the most up-to-date cafe the south has ever seen.

On Old Sawtell Corner.

The work of excavation on this lot was completed some time ago, it will be remembered. This makes it possible to begin construction immediately, and it is stated that laying the foundations will begin not later than the first of next week. The contract for the work will probably be closed today.

The lot on which the hotel is to stand has been known for years as the Sawtell corner. It was purchased something over a year and a half ago by the Progressive Realty Company for $62,000, while Mr. Crass was forced to turn loose just an even $105,000 to secure possession last week. This trade, one of the largest of the local season, was put through by L. C. Green, of the M. L. Thrower Company. At the time of his purchase, Mr. Crass contemplated the building of the hotel, it is stated.

In speaking of the matter, Mr. Crass states that he believes Atlanta cannot only support another good hotel, but badly needs one. The building he will erect will be a credit to the city, he says, and in his opinion should pay well.

DYNAMITE IS USED TO DESTROY FOES BY MEXIC REBELS

Insurrectos Slip Into Juarez and Use Explosives On the Barracks of Garrison.

CITY THROWN INTO PANIC BY ATTACK ON BARRACKS

People Prepared to Flee Into United States---Buildings Are Badly Shattered, but Mexican Authorities Will Give No Information As to the Loss of Life.

CAMPAIGN OF DYNAMITE TO DESTROY RAILROADS

San Antonio, Texas, March 15. If advices Southern Pacific officials received tonight are carried out, then all rail communication with the interior of Mexico will be destroyed within 24 hours. These advices made it apparent that rebels have planned to blow up several bridges between C. P. Diaz, opposite Eagle Pass, and Sabinas, Coahuila, on the Mexican International Line of the merged system.

Officials admitted tonight they are holding in readiness in Southern Pacific yards 50 tourist sleepers, 50 day coaches, 100 flat cars, 100 gondola cars and 200 stock cars. These cars are ready to move so soon as the government calls for them in the event of an emergency. Plenty of motive power is also held in reserve.

El Paso, Texas, March 15.—An attempt was made tonight to blow up the barracks at Juares, Mexico. Two heavy charges of nitroglycerin were placed under the place and exploded, tearing out parts of the buildings occupied by the Mexican troops. Two of a small band of insurrectos who secretly had entered the town were wounded and captured.

A number of Mexican cavalrymen are reported to have been injured.

Explosion Caused Panic.

The shock of the explosion was felt throughout Juarez, and immediately a cry was raised that the insurrectos had surrounded the place in great numbers and were attacking. Merchants left their stores and crowds prepared to make a general exodus to the American

Stone in Bladder Removed in Remarkable Way.

A year and a half ago I was taken with a severe attack of kidney trouble that pained me to such an extent that morphine had to be given me. Was attended by a doctor who pronounced it as stone in the bladder and prescribed Lithia Water. I took Lithia Water and tablets for some time and received no relief from them. I stopped taking medicines for some time and having some of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root in the house, I decided to try it and felt much relieved: while taking the second bottle commenced to pass gravel in urine until I had passed in all at least a half a dozen or more and have not suffered the slightest since, and in all have taken one bottle and a half and feel very grateful to Swamp-Root.

Yours very truly,
H. W. SPINKS.
Camp Hill, Ala.

Personally appeared before me this 16th day of August, 1909, H. W. Spinks, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that same is true in substance and in fact.

Send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling all about the kidneys and bladder. side. Extra guards were placed about the quarters of Colonel Tamborel, the commandant, and of General Navarro.

The barracks are occupied by the Fourteenth Mexican cavalry, and are in the heart of the town. There has been a general feeling that the insurrectos were surrounding the city.

A small band of insurrectos is supposed to have crept into the town along the railroad tracks shortly after 8 o'clock. After placing the bombs they attempted to get away.

Soldiers Opened Fire.

Soldiers on the lookout on top of the barracks immediately opened fire, bringing down two of the insurrectos. The rest escaped into the country.

All the Mexican soldiers in town were called on duty. A guard was placed around the barracks, and no official information as to the extent of the damage was given out. It was seen from adjacent streets, however, that a number of the barracks buildings were wrecked.

The wounded insurrectos were picked up by soldiers and carried away.

The town has the aspect of a city preparing for war. Sand bags are piled up at the edges of the roof of houses to act as breastworks; people have been forbidden to venture far beyond their environments, and the rifle loopholes in the walls of the old mission in the heart of the town have been kept open.

NO AMERICANS YET EXECUTED BY THE MEXICAN AUTHORITIES

El Paso, Texas, March 15.—Assurances of safety of all Americans now confined in Mexican prisons is given in an official statement issued at Juarez tonight.

Americans now prisoners will be given trials in the civil courts on charges of sedition against the Mexican government, but hereafter all insurrectos, whether citizens of the United States or not, may be subject to the death penalty under summary military proceedure.

The statement from the Mexican officials was issued relative to the seventeen foreigners now imprisoned in the federal jail at Casas Grandes. Fifteen of them are Americans. Pending their trials they will be given the consideration due to prisoners of war.

The two other foreigners are European "soldiers of fortune" who have fought in Central American revolutions.

Colonel Manuel Tamborel, military commander at Juarez, said:

"The Americans have not been shot and will not be. Colonel Cuellar has so reported to us here, and to Mexico City. It is the intention to give the men a fair trial. This does not mean the same consideration will be given to foreigners hereafter captured."

It is said the citizens of the United States now fighting in the insurrecto ranks number 600. The largest force is with Captain Oscar G. Creighton, who has been active in blowing up railroad bridges.

DISPOSAL WORK LET FOR $171,818

Filtering Bed Reduced to Meet Bid.

Contract for Construction of Intrenchment Creek Disposal Plant Proper Let to Chester A. Dady, of New York—Bed of Filter Cut Half Acre.

At a joint meeting of the bond commission and the sewer committee of council yesterday afternoon Chester A. Dady, of New York, was awarded the contract for the construction of the Intrenchment creek disposal plant proper.

Mr. Dady's bid was $192,577, but since the bond issue did not provide that large a sum for the construction of the plant the committee was compelled to reduce the size of the filtering bed from 2½ to 2 acres, thus reducing Mr. Dady's bid to $171,818.

Under the specifications the committee had the authority to reduce the size of the filtering bed and thus reduce the bid for its construction. Chairman F. A. Quillian, of the bond commission, stated that it was the opinion of the committee that two acres will be sufficient size for the filtering bed for present needs, and it was feared that at its contemplated size of 2½ acres no smaller bid than that offered by Mr. Dady could be secured.

The Noll Construction Company, of Chattanooga, was awarded the contract for the intercepting sewer. The bid of this company for the long section was $36,634 for plain concrete, and for the short section $28,629 for plain concrete.

The committee decided to have the three aqueducts constructed of concrete and accepted the following bids for the work: For the DuBose aqueduct, Nichols Construction Company, $7,170; for the Collier aqueduct, Mackie-Crawford Company, $7,400; for the Parker aqueduct, Dysard Construction Company, $5,400.

All of the bids accepted by the committee will be recommended to council for approval at the next meeting.

EIGHT COUNTIES BID FOR NATIONAL HIGHWAY

Enthusiastic Meeting of Good Roads Advocates Held in Albany.

Albany, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—An enthusiastic meeting of representatives of Dougherty, Worth, Colquitt, Brooks, Lee, Sumter, Macon and Houston counties was held here today for the purpose of solidifying support of the project for having the New York-Jacksonville national highway come through those counties.

The meeting was called by the Moultrie chamber of commerce and held in Albany because of accessibility from all points. Most of the delegates came in automobiles. The greatest enthusiasm was manifested.

The claims of southwest Georgia for the national highway were set forth by speakers representing the various counties and a resolution was adopted declaring for the "Andersonville route," by the famous national cemetery and through the tier of counties reaching from Macon via Americus, Albany and Moultrie to the Florida line.

Representatives of Mitchell and Thomas counties were present but were denied by the Moultrie chamber of commerce, which had called the meeting, the right to participate and advocate the claims of the route leading from Albany via Camilla, Pelham and Thomasville.

CANADIAN MARKET FOR UNITED STATES

In the Event of the Adoption of the Reciprocity Agreement.

Portland, Maine, March 15.—Discussing Canadian reciprocity before the Portland Economic Club tonight, John B. Osborne, chief of the bureau of trade relations of the state department at Washington, predicted that five years hence, in the event of the adoption of the pending agreement, Canada's total imports would be about $540,000,000 and that the United States would supply $350,000,000, or 65 per cent of that total. Mr. Osborne was one of the officials when he prepared the agreements.

Colonel Albert Clarke, of Boston, president of the Home Market Club, a leading high protection organization, argued that the agreement as proposed would make a large inroad upon the protective policy of the country. He said that it discriminated against the farmers, lumbermen and fishermen, and that it is entirely one-sided and to Canada's advantage.

Jackson Rifles Inspected.

Jackson, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—The Jackson Rifles, company A, Second regiment National Guard of Georgia, was inspected last night by Major F. L. Palmer, inspector general of Georgia. He was assisted by Lieutenant P. N. Williams, of the coast artillery, of Fort Screven. The inspection was one of the most rigid the local military ahs ever undergone. Special attention was given to the mechanism and names of the different parts of the rifles and guard duty. Forty-six men were present and the company passed a most creditable inspection.

NEGRO'S COMMISSION IS SIGNED BY TAFT

Washington, March 15.—W. H. Lewis, the negro assistant district attorney at Boston, may now take the oath of office as assistant attorney general at Washington, his commission, signed by President Taft, as a recess appointment, having been received at the white house today. The senate had refused to act upon the nomination of Lewis when submitted by the president and the resubmission of his name to the senate for confirmation may precipitate a controversy.

CRUSADE TELLS ON HOOK WORM

Good Work Is Done by Rockefeller Commission.

Dr. Stiles' Report Will Show What Has Been Done in the South---Wickliffe Rose Says Public Sentiment Has Been Aroused to Fight Hook Worm.

Washington, March 15.—Excellent results are being accomplished in the fight being waged in the south against the hook worm infection according to two reports from the commission established by a donation of $1,000,000 from John D. Rockefeller for the eradication of the disease.

One of those reports by Dr. C. W. Stiles, scientific secretary of the commission, is now in press, and has not been made public. It is known, however, that it deals with what has been accomplished in a sanitary way throughout the south toward wiping out the infection, and Dr. Stiles is known to be of the opinion that, with the assistance of the various state boards of health, the work has been proceeding favorably. Scientific treatment he believes is getting the upper hand in the fight against hook worm.

Public Sentiment Created.

The other report, that of Wickliffe Rose, administrative secretary of the commission, which has just been made public, declared that "the largest result achieved during the past year does not appear in the tables," shown in the report. This result, he says, is "the public sentiment created."

"The people," he adds, "are being led to seek examination and treatment by the co-operation of public-spirited, influential citizens. The inspectors, on going into a new community, frequently have the co-operation of a group of leading citizens."

In speaking of the way in which the work is being carried on, he tells how the geographic distribution of the infection and the degree of infection is determined by personal inspection by the various state directors of public health, by reports from local physicians and by laboratory examinations. In addition to the nine southern states—Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia—in which the fight has been organized, the secretary reports that "infection has been demonstrated in Florida, Kentucky, Texas, Oklahoma, California and Nevada. It is reported as heavy and producing great economic loss in the mines of California."

Getting the Sufferers Cured.

"In getting the sufferers cured," the report adds, "the state director and his staff follow three lines—enlisting the physicians in the accomplishment of the task; getting the people to seek examination and treatment, if needed, for themselves and their neighbors; and providing treatment for the indigent. By means of the printed page, by lectures and through the schools, the people, he says, are being taught what hook worm means and how to fight it. "The final task in this work," he declared, "is to stamp out hook worm infection by putting a stop to soil pollution. The work is one of education and will require years for its accomplishment."

NO SQUARE DEAL GIVEN THE SOUTH

Seaboard and advised the expenditure of twenty-five millions of dollars within the next ten years in the betterment of the property, he made certain predictions as to the increase of earnings and the decrease in operating expenses which would come therefrom for each of the next ten years. His estimate of gross earnings and decreased operating expenses have already worked out three years ahead of time and the Seaboard is now making gross earnings equal to his estimate for 1913.

Illustrating this point, Mr. Wallace called attention to the fact that during his connection with the Illinois Central railroad that company expended upon development work one hundred million dollars, and said: "Through doing this it lessened the cost of handling business and thereby increased its earnings to such an extent that at the present time that road is paying annual dividends of 7 per cent and accumulating a large surplus on average gross receipts per ton mile less than the average cost per ton mile of doing such business on the principal lines in the southeastern states.

If a Harriman Should Come South.

"The marvelous results accomplished in the development of the Union Pacific, its immense earnings, its magnificent physical condition and the great expansion of Pacific coast traffic have largely come as the result of far-seeing vision, the untiring energy and the command of capital possessed by Mr. Harriman. If there shall come to the front in the railroad or financial world a man or group of men of Mr. Harriman's stamp, equal to the opportunity offered by the south there is practically no limit that can be set to the rapidity of the progress and the increasing prosperity of the south."

"The railroads of the South Atlantic states," said Mr. O'Dell, "must make an expenditure of vast sums in modernizing the whole railroad system if this section is to be saved from a congestion of traffic and ability to take care of its growing trade. The receivership of the Seaboard and the physical breakdown of other railroads in the south at the very height of the boom period a few years ago was only an indication of the fact that the south was growing more rapidly than its railroads.

Southern Growth Will be Halted.

This condition still prevails and southern growth will be halted unless the railroads begin immediately upon a far larger and more comprehensive plan, the rebuilding of their systems than there are yet any indications of. There should, moreover, be a very great increase in the mileage of existing railroads to open up new traffic whenever the main lines have been put in shape to handle increased business."

Mr. O'Dell, who [illegible] familiar with the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio railroad, using that as an illustration of the statements made by him as to the need of bettering the physical condition of railroads of the south to reduce operating expenses, said:

"The Clinchfield road is the only line in the south Atlantic states that is constructed of such construction is reflected in its cost per ton mile in handling its traffic. One solid train of the Clinchfield road will make three train loads for the immediate connections of that line."

And then, in closing, Messrs. Wallace and O'Dell united in saying:

"There is no other field in America offering a greater opportunity for the investment of capital, not by millions, but by hundreds of millions, in a work of this kind than the southern states."

Will the Financial Powers Heed?

Commenting on the statements of Messrs. O'Dell and Wallace, Mr. Edmonds says:

"These remarkable statements by men of such national prominence in the railroad world as engineers and operating officers should awaken the great financial interests of the east to a recognition of the situation. Here is a country, as pointed by Wallace and O'Dell, with limitless capabilities for development, a country in which hundreds of millions of dollars could be wisely invested in the development of the railroad interests of the south. The investment of such enormous sums would not only bring about a vast increase in the prosperity in the south, but it would safeguard the money already invested in southern railroads by giving to them increased efficiency and enabling them to do business with a larger margin of profit, while at the same time lessening the cost of freight transportation. Will the financial powers of New York and Europe heed the suggestions made?"

LEASE INCOME REACHES $10,000; JASPER SMITH DECIDES TO STOP

Jasper Newton Smith, former owner of the "House That Jack Built," and a prominent figure in Atlanta's real estate world, reached the $10,000 mark in his real estate leases yesterday when he signed up papers for two locations fronting 100 feet on Ivy street, and running back 141 feet to an alley, to the Knox Construction Company, for 99 years at $3,600 a year. He declares he will lease no more of his property, as his wish was to stop when the $10,000 a year income from leased property was attained. The deal involves $356,400 for the term of lease.

The location in question is now occupied by two two-story buildings, one of them, the Ivy hotel, which rents for $200 a month. They are at 98 and 102 Ivy street. The location is a valuable one, and Fitzhugh Knox, head of the company which leased the property, is sure that with the expenditure of a few hundred dollars the rental can be brought up to $3,600 a year, making the investment a paying one from the start.

Later on, he says, a ten-story building will be erected on the spot. This will occur when the grading of Ivy street is completed some time this spring. He thinks at that time traffic from Peachtree will flow down to Auburn avenue, thus enhancing the value of office and store rooms on Ivy street considerably.

It was announced by Mr. Smith yesterday afternoon that he would go to Winona, Okla., on the 15th of May, to invest in Indian lands. He will be accompanied by Dr. G. L. Gray, who is representing the Osage Indians, owners of the lands, in Atlanta. Though Mr. Smith will remain in Oklahoma for some time he does not intend to make it his permanent home.

SOCIALIST LEADER TALKS IN ATLANTA

Eugene V. Debs Addresses Big Crowd at Auditorium.

In a speech that aroused unbounded enthusiasm in the thousand people who were at the Auditorium-Armory last night, Eugene V. Debs, the most prominent Socialist in the world, explained in detail the vast gains of socialism in the last few years, and the hopes and aims of the socialist party in the future, detailing many of the fundamentals of the party, and telling of their beliefs.

Mr. Debs, who has twice been the presidential nominee of the socialists, was introduced by George D. Brewer, his manager, who told of the present standing of the socialist party in politics, and of the vast advantages it offers to the workingman. He also spoke of the good it has done in the cities where it has become a dominant factor, of the advantages wrought through its principles, and of the legislation to be passed by its efforts.

Mr. Debs said in substance:

"At the center of the great revolutionary movement of today stands the socialist party organization. Around and about this center there revolves that larger, indefinite thing we call the socialist movement. Beyond that there is a dim, nebulous something called radicalism, that comes and goes, sometimes on one side, sometimes on the other, seldom itself conscious of its position. Without this central organization the remainder would be as cloudlike as are its outer limits at present. There would be no socialist ticket to vote did there not exist this party organization to maintain the political machinery. There would be little socialist literature to read were it not for this organized body, that establishes papers, circulates pamphlets, distributes books and maintains educational centers. It is this central heart of the movement that formulates incoherent rebellion into intelligent revolutionary activity. By its discipline and its educational work the wheat is sifted from the chaff, and a clear, coherent set of principles is evolved.

"While this organization performs the work of a political machine, it is the antithesis of all other political machines. Its boss is its membership, its spoils the converts made to socialism, its campaign fund is drawn from the pockets of those who do the work. No man or paper, no clique of officeholders or gang of sluggers can dominate the socialist party organization, because its democracy is not in name but in action.

"It is not an independence league, financed and directed by a single ambitious individual. It is not a secret, boss-ridden body, as are the central councils of other parties. It is clean, open, frank, democratic, to accord with the principles it professes. Every local and branch is an educational center where members meet, exchange ideas, discuss politics, listen to lectures and plan campaigns of agitation, education and organization.

"This organization is not exclusive, like other party machines. On the contrary, it invites to membership every one who is willing to accept the socialist position and work for socialist success. The party invites both to the duties and the opportunities of membership. It affords an opportunity to have a voice in the determination of policies, platforms and candidates; it asks assistance in the carrying on of the propaganda of socialism."

THEATERGOERS LIKE CHANGE IN MME. BERNHARDT'S PROGRAM

Atlanta theatergoers generally express gratification over the change in the program for Mme. Sarah Bernhardt's appearance at the Orpheum next Wednesday night, March 22, as announced in The Constitution yesterday.

Most of those who are familiar with the stories of both plays, Jeanne d'Arc and Camille, and will miss nothing of the story of either through the elimination of the first acts, while all will have the pleasure of seeing the "Divine" Sarah on the stage almost constantly while the curtain is up.

With the characteristic thoroughness of the French, Madame Sarah Bernhardt attended to every detail of her accessories. To the consternation of her managers, she brought to America several hundred tons of scenery, costumes and stage properties billed to Mr. Connor (C. O. D.). She literally emptied her Paris storehouse of its entire outfit of costumes drops and scenic investiture.

The list of properties alone, as scheduled in the invoices, covers several pages of closely typed matter, and shows that each play is to be presented without a single duplicate or double, even to the smallest jar of flowers or the most insignificant grass mat.

"Of course, I didn't suppose that the 'moyen age' sets for 'Jeanne d'Arc would be made to do service in 'Camille,'" said Mr. Connor, "but I did think that the same flowers used in 'La Sorciere' might be made to bloom in 'L'Aiglon,' and the troops in 'La Tosca' might, since they are of the same period and the same army, be allowed to wear the same uniforms they donned in the service of the 'Little Eagle.'"

Besides giving a bond for $150,000 and swearing to several affidavits in English and French that the stuff was to be shipped back to France after figuring in Mme. Bernhardt's tour in this country, Mr. Connor was obliged to go over the whole cargo with an army of appraisers, and spend hours in a tangled chaos of wigs, candelabra, back drops and thousands of items in a paraphernalia covering twenty plays produced with a company of a hundred.

SENSATIONAL TRIAL PUT OFF IN DEKALB

Clarence B. Parker, Once Given Ten Years, to Be Tried Again.

When the case of Clarence B. Parker, a well-known and well-to-do farmer, of DeKalb county, was called in the superior court yesterday, his attorney, John E. McClelland, presented a doctor's certificate to the effect that his client was too sick to attend court for trial.

Parker was to undergo his second trial on a charge of seduction, having been convicted on the former trial, and given a ten-year sentence. However, a new trial was granted him.

On account of his familiarity with the case, former Solicitor General, now Congressman William Schley Howard took charge of it, and protested against a continuance.

Finally it was agreed that two doctors, one representing each side, should go and make an examination of the defendant. They reported to the court that Parker was suffering from grip and bronchitis, but thought it possible for him to present himself in court.

That no injustice might be done, Judge Roan ordered a postponement of the case until Friday, though Mr. McClelland protested that his client would not then be able to be present in court.

CASE OF DR. AMOSS IN HANDS OF JURY

If Convicted, the Imprisonment May Be From One to Fifteen Years.

Hopkinsville, Ky., March 15.—Except for eight lengthy speeches by attorneys, the trial of Dr. David Amoss, accused as leader of the night riders who raided Hopkinsville, in December, 1907, was completed today.

In his charge, the court told the jury that if convinced beyond a reasonable doubt of Amoss' guilt, it must fix the punishment to be meted out to him. The court said that this punishment could be imprisonment in the penitentiary for from one to fifteen years.

EAST ATLANTA BANK OPEN FOR BUSINESS

Elaborate Ceremonies Mark Birth of New Institution.

The East Atlanta bank was opened yesterday afternoon with elaborate ceremonies in honor of the first institution of its kind in that section, speeches, an old-fashioned barbecue and other forms of entertainment being on the program.

Newton St. John was the principal speaker of the day, giving a detailed history of the suburb from war times to the present day. Beginning with a short account of that part of the battle of Atlanta fought on the site of East Atlanta, he told of old Spanish Jim Brown, who was the first to build a house in that section; J. T. Welham and J. J. Marbut, who soon followed, and in 1889 the first store was erected by J. W. McWilliams. His son erected the East Atlanta postoffice soon afterwards. Later, Mr. Marbut and Mr. Minor established a small grocery store.

The East Atlanta Methodist church followed, being completed after two years of labor on the part of J. T. Welham and Mr. Marbut. A modern school followed in 1904, and the Baptist church was then established.

A good street car service was then demanded and received by the residents of East Atlanta, and the Bell telephone service was installed. The little suburb now has all the conveniences of a big city, including drug stores, backsmith shops, dry goods stores, millinery houses and an up-to-date postoffice.

ESSIG BROS. TO MAKE UNIFORMS FOR POLICE

Firm Which Supplied Winter Uniforms Awarded Summer Contract.

The board of police commissioners has ratified the recommendation of the committee appointed to confer upon the awarding of the contract for summer uniforms for the entire department.

The recommendation of the committee, which was composed of three police commissioners and three members from the rank and file, was that the bid of Essig Bros. be accepted.

The firm supplied the uniforms now in use, and that they have proven highly satisfactory as to fit and quality of material is said to have had considerable influence with the committee in their recommendation.

Seven or more bidders endeavored to secure this contract.

Alleged Outlaws on Trial.

Wilson, N. C., March 15.—Little trouble was experienced in selecting the jury that is to pass upon the life of Louis West and John Stetson, alleged leaders of a band of negro outlaws, who are charged with the murder of Deputy Sheriff George Mumford and shooting of Police Chief A. O. Glover, on the afternoon of February 3. The defendants now on trial are the only ones of a gang of 18, all of whom are in jail, who are charged with a capital offense.

LUDLOW IN CHARGE OF GEN. MILLS' POST

Colonel Sidesteps Discussion of Situation in Mexico.

Col. H. H. Ludlow, of the coast artillery, stationed at Fort Caswell, near the mouth of the Cape Fear river, in North Carolina, who has been assigned to the temporary command of the Department of the Gulf during the absence of Brig. Gen. Albert L. Mills, has arrived in Atlanta and has taken active charge of the department headquarters. He is at present the ranking officer in this department.

When asked to discuss conditions in Mexico and the significance of the mobilizing of 20,000 United States troops in Texas, the colonel "sidestepped" gracefully, as army officers are wont to do when called upon for their opinion as to what may happen in connection with the army or navy.

"Not a few believe that there is a strong probability of war," said the colonel, "but few of them seem to have a very clear idea as to who we are about to fight. For myself, I don't know. Things are too badly mixed now for me even to hazard a guess."

Without saying as much, however, the colonel left the impression that he thinks any serious trouble improbable.

HUNTER MAY HANG FOR TRIPLE CRIME

Supreme Court Affirms the Verdict in Savannah Murder.

Unless executive clemency is extended him, J. C. Hunter, of Savannah, will pay the penalty on the gallows for the murder of his wife and two other women in that city on the night of December 10, 1909.

In a decision handed down Wednesday the supreme court holds that Judge Charlton made no error in his charge to the jury, as was alleged in the appeal taken by the convicted man, and the verdict of guilty stands affirmed.

The crime for which Hunter was convicted was one of the most atrocious in the history of the state. Hunter's wife, a Mrs. Ohlander and a Mrs. Gribble were killed with an ax in the home of Mrs. Gribble.

A negro was arrested and charged with the crime, but later developments resulted in the arrest of Hunter. He was tried and convicted with the result that sentence of death was passed on him on May 10, 1910.

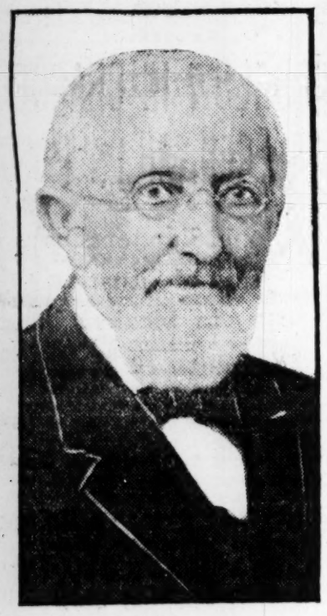
AUGUST RAUSCHENBERG AN ATLANTA PIONEER

Died at the Age of 79 After Quite an Eventful Life.

The death of August Rauschenberg at his home, 25 West End avenue, Tuesday night, removes another of Atlanta's older citizens, who have watched the city rise from the ashes of the war.

Born July 8, 1831, in Saxe-Coburg Gotha, Germany, Mr. Rauschenberg had almost reached his four-score years,



AUGUST RAUSCHENBERG
Pioneer Atlantan who died Tuesday at the age of 79.

when sitting conversing pleasantly with four of his children, just before retiring, he suddenly expired from failure of the heart.

Coming to America, he landed at Baltimore in 1850, and soon afterward settled in north Georgia. He enlisted in the confederate army in 1861 at Big Shanty, Ga., saw active service throughout the war and was captured only three days before the surrender. In 1865 he married Annie Elizabeth Canerian, who died here in 1897. There were ten children born to them, six of whom are living, namely, Miss Rosa Rauschenberg and Mrs. W. L. Cousins, of Atlanta; Mrs. I. F. Nichols, of Tucson, Ariz.; E. C. Rauschenberg and F. A. Rauschenberg, of Wheeling, W. Va., and Rev. Fritz Rauschenberg, of Lawrenceville, Ga.

Mr. Rauschenberg had lived in Atlanta over forty years, having settled here just after the war. He was a devoted member of the German Lutheran church, and a member also of Atlanta lodge, No. 59, F. and A. M. He retired from active business several years ago and spent his retirement in the peace and quiet of the home.

The funeral service will take place at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, and will be conducted by Rev. H. C. Hammond and Dr. John F. Purser. Atlanta lodge, No. 59, F. and A. M., will conduct the service at the grave.

NO ORGAN CONCERTS UNTIL AFTER APRIL

There will be no more organ concerts or recitals at the Auditorium-Armory until after the grand opera season. There will be none tonight.

From this time on, the Auditorium-Armory stage will be torn up preparatory to making room for the Metropolitan Opera Company engagement, and for other reasons also it will be be inconvenient to hold the concerts.

Dr. Starnes' delightful music, however, will be resumed immediately after the grand opera season, April 27, 28 and 29, and will continue as it has in the past.

The attendance on these concerts has already made a new record in the United States.

SPEER'S DECISION AGAINST COMPANY

Ruling Regarded Victory for Government in M. & M. Case.

Savannah, Ga., March 15.—Judge Emory Speer decided against the defense today after a hard struggle between counsel in the case against the Merchants and Miners' Transportation Company, when he said: "Surely the defendant cannot be heard to defend one charge of crime by showing it committed another."

The defendant has all along admitted that it charged L. F. Miller & Co., of Philadelphia, only 10 cents a hundred pounds on grain shipments to Jacksonville, and it is also admitted that the rate on file at that time in the office of the interstate commerce commission was 15 cents, but the defense contended that all shippers from certain territory—that of the Millers—were given the 10-cent rate.

Judge Speer holds in his decision today that the law requires that the rate be fixed, and it makes no difference how widely a rate may be known, yet if it is not on file when it is charged, then the law is violated.

The present indictment does not charge that the rate de facto was not filed, but that the rate on file was not charged. The defense now hinges upon the one word "wilful" in the indictment, an effort being made to show that the carrier did not "wilfully" fail to observe the established rate. Judge Speer's decision is regarded as a victory for the prosecution.

Pure is the word when K K K Flour goes in the kitchen.

M'NAUGHTON HEARING TO COME UP MARCH 20

Swainsboro, Ga., March 15.—Counsel for Dr. W. J. McNaughton have received notice that arguments will be heard in this case in supreme court on March 20. This case, upon the refusal of the trial judge, Judge S. P. Gilbert, to grant a new trial, was sent to the supreme court.

The evidence under which Dr. McNaughton was convicted was circumstantial and his counsel have great faith in winning a new trial in the higher court. The amended motion for new trial contains about twenty grounds and the record which was sent up by the clerk is one of the most voluminous sent up in a number of years from here.

FIGHTS THREE "COPS" AND IS FINED $500

Savannah, Ga., March 15.—(Special.) Five out of six charges against the defendant having been substantiated, a fine of $500, with an alternative of five months upon the farm, was imposed upon Abe Raskin in police court this morning. Fines of $100, with an alternative of thirty days, were imposed for each charge. The offenses were drunkenness, cursing on the street, resisting and striking an arresting officer, cursing and abusing the arresting officer and striking the station house officer.

The charges grew out of an affray between Raskin and three patrolmen. The affair, which created considerable excitement in the business section of the city, has been characterized as the "liveliest scrap that has occurred in Savannah in twenty-five years."

LUMBERMAN KILLED AT MONTIETH PLANT

Savannah, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—Caught beneath a huge piece of falling timber, Harry J. Hahn, vice president of the Big Stick Lumber Company, was crushed to death at noon today at the plant of the company near Montieth.

Hahn came to Savannah five years ago from Greenville, Ohio. He was 35 years of age. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Bertha E. Hahn, and five children. The remains will be taken to his former home in Greenville for interment.

Ran Auto With Kerosene.

Milledgeville, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—James L. Sibley, of this place, in making a trip home from Eatonton yesterday in his Cadillac machine, discovered his gasoline to be out. Mr. Sibley resorted to the use of kerosene, and found his motor would run as strong as ever with only an occasional sputter. Two quarts of kerosene brought the car the remaining nine miles of the distance home.

A CONSTANT ITCHING AND BURNING

Night and Day. Cried All the Time. Used Most Everything. Cuticura Remedies Cured Itching in 3 Days. Healed in 8 Days.

"I was taken with the itch in April, 1904, and used most everything. I had a friend pay me a visit from Cumberland, and she advised me to use Cuticura Remedies which I did. The cure was certainly quick, and I use them to this day. I had it terribly under my knees. I only used one box of Pills, but two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, and I use the Cuticura Soap all the time. I hope this will benefit others, as it has me, after Dr. —— and others could do nothing for me." (Signed) Miss Lu Johnson, 1523 Ninth St., N. W., Washington, D. C., April 3, 1910.

In a later letter Miss Johnson adds: "The trouble began with an eruption under my knees, and extended upwards toward my waist, until I was not able to sit down. It kept a constant itching and burning all the time, night and day. I went to my doctor but he could do me no good after I do not know how many medicines he gave me, and then told me I would be compelled to go to a skin specialist, which I positively refused to do. I cried all the time. Finally I made up my mind to try Cuticura Remedies, and tried Cuticura Pills, Ointment and Soap, and was entirely cured of the itching three days after I started using them. The healing took about eight days. I consider Cuticura Remedies marvelous, and would recommend them everywhere. I hope everyone suffering with any skin disease will try Cuticura, for it is mine forevermore."

Cuticura Soap (25c.) and Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are sold throughout the world. They afford the speediest and most economical treatment for skin diseases. A single set is often sufficient. MAUGHON APPEALED CASE AND GOT 3 YEARS EXTRA

Lawrenceville, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—In Gwinnett superior court J. W. B. Maughon was convicted of voluntary manslaughter and Judge C. H. Brand imposed a sentence of five years in the penitentiary.

The case grew out of the killing of Zack Cleghorn in Cains district in December, 1908. Maughon was tried once before, and convicted of involuntary manslaughter, and sentenced to two years, but appealed the case, and was given a new hearing. Kelley Elrod was indicted for the same offense, but his trial has been postponed pending the disposition of that against Maughon. The two men had gone to Cleghorn's house to arrest him, when the killing occurred.

Both parties come of prominent families. Maughon has asked for another trial.

The two young Cash boys who have been on trial for the killing of a man named Bagby at Buford several months ago were acquitted.

THREE BUTTS COUNTY CARRIERS DELIVERING MAIL ON MOTORCYCLES

Jackson, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—Carrying the mail on motorcycles and making their schedules in four hours instead of seven or eight hours, three of the eight rural carriers in Butts county appear to have solved a problem that will be worth much to the rural mail service.

The carriers on rural routes Nos. 3, 6 and 7 are now using motorcyles. Of course, the machines can be used only in good weather. The maintenance of the motorcycles is much less than the up-keep of a horse and buggy.

The time made is much quicker. People that have not been getting their papers until late in the day, now receive them early in the morning and by shortly after noon the carriers are back at home.

YOUNG FARMER TAKES DOSE OF LAUDANUM

Macon, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—Lon Edwards, a well-known young farmer, accidentally set fire to a house belonging to his neighbor, James Chambers, yesterday, and when Chambers threatened to prosecute him unless the house was replaced, he took laudanum, and is now in a critical condition. Physicians say, however, that he will recover.

The house that was burned was on some land that Edwards desired to plow, and he set fire to some grass nearby. The fire got beyond his control and destroyed the house, together with a ton of fertilizer.

MERCHANTS INSPECT ROUTE OF THE G. & F.

Augusta, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—Laden with half a hundred wholesale merchants of Augusta, a special train of the Georgia and Florida Railroad left this city at 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning to traverse the road, the merchants being especially invited on what General Freight Agent McFadden calls an Augusta trade expansion trip.

Mr. McFadden declares that his territory is neglected by the wholesale men of the state; that all they need is to have their eyes opened to the splendid country traversed by the G. & F.'s lines.

He believes the trip will be of mutual benefit to the road and to Augusta merchants.

TROUP PLANTERS SEE COLLEGE TRAIN

Hearty Welcome Extended at Hogansville, LaGrange and West Point.

LaGrange, Ga., March 15.—(Special.) Planters of Troup, 3,500 strong, assembled here today to greet the college on wheels. Among this number were some of the most substantial citizens of the county.

Accompanied by their wives and children in many instances, and coming long distances, the farmers began to arrive early, and upon the arrival of the train at 11:30 the yards at the Atlanta and West Point station were thronged with people eager to see the exhibits and to listen to the lectures.

The city schools and colleges of LaGrange suspended for the day. More than 500 school children and 600 young women from the colleges were interested visitors.

Mayor J. D. Edmundson welcomed the train in a happy speech and introduced Dr. A. M. Soule, who delivered a very able and instructive address, commanding the attention and lively interest of the planters.

Dr. Soule was followed by Commissioner T. G. Hudson, who received a hearty greeting.

Addresses were also made by Samuel T. Dunlap and others.

The train was kept here longer than scheduled, owing to the very great interest shown by the planters and other visitors.

Hogansville, Ga., March 15.—(Special)—Planters from Troup, Meriwether and Heard counties were on hand early today to greet the agricultural train.

Some of them had driven miles, and the earliness of the hour had made it necessary for them to leave their homes at the crack of dawn.

The citizens of Hogansville had made elaborate preparations for the reception of the train and the entertainment of those aboard.

Dr. A. M. Soule, president of the State College of Agriculture, joined the party just before the train left Newnan this morning, and was in general charge at Hogansville. He made a great agricultural education talk, and held the close attention of the big crowd for probably an hour. He was followed by Colonel Thomas G. Hudson, Colonel Samuel C. Dunlap and others in the party.

Professor McGee, superintendent of the local schools, presided over the meeting and introduced Dr. Soule. Professor McGee's speech was received with pleasure.

An evidence of the interest the train held for Hogansville was indicated by the attitude of the merchants and the manufacturers of the city. The stores were closed throughout the stay of the train, and the school children were given a half-holiday, in order that they, too, might hear the speeches and see the interesting exhibits.

Farmers From Two States on Hand.

West Point, Ga., March 15.—(Special.) Farmers from two states welcomed the college train here this afternoon. Two thousand farmers from Troup and Harris county, Georgia, and Lee and Chambers county, Alabama, were assembled to see the exhibits and to hear the addresses of the agricultural experts.

Mayor John T. Johnson welcomed the train on behalf of the city. The welcome was one of the most cordial the train has yet received on its tour about the state.

Dr. Soule and Professor Hite addressed the crowd.

The exhibits were inspected with a great deal of interest.

The train left here at a late hour for Atlanta.

INTEREST IN VISIT OF D'ESTOURNELLES

Many From a Distance Go to Athens to Hear Speech.

Athens, Ga., March 15.—(Special)—From present indications the visit of Baron d'Estournelles de Constant on next Monday, when he will deliver a lecture at the University of Georgia on "International Conciliation," will be one of the most important events in this city for some time.

Present indiactions point to the presence in the city at that time of prominent men and women from every part of Georgia and from other southern states. The interest caused by the announcement of Baron d'Estournelles' visit is evidenced by the number of outside people who have indicated their intention of hearing the distinguished French nobleman on next Monday.

The speaking will take place in the chapel of the university at 11 in the morning, and immediately following he will be entertained at an elaborate luncheon by Dr. and Mrs. H. C. White at their home on Milledge avenue.

MEXICO WARNED BY ROOSEVELT

The Colonel Causes Sensation By El Paso Speech.

Roosevelt Says That "All United States Demands of Mexico Is Order, Justice and Independence"---"Turmoil" in Mexico Injurious to Business.

El Paso, Texas, March 15.—"All the United States demands of Mexico is order, justice and independence," declared Theodore Roosevelt this morning at a breakfast given in his honor by the Toltec Club.

The colonel's remarks were the only utterance he has made on the Mexican situation and came as a complete surprise to the members of his party.

Colonel Roosevelt led up to his observations on the Mexican trouble by saying that the prosperity of his neighbors was a condition of the prosperity of any man. He declared that honest dealing between man and man was the only certain foundation of prosperity. The same thing was true, he said, of the relations of communities to each other.

Continuing, he declared that this country wished to see all of its neighbors prosper; that his hearers knew from experience how the "turmoil" to the south had affected business. He said that this country only demanded of its neighbors that order shall reign in their borders and that order should be established upon justice.

Colonel Roosevelt boarded a special car at 10 o'clock to continue his journey to Albuquerque, N. M.

Roosevelt Family Reunited.

Albuquerque, N. M., March 15.—The Roosevelt family was reunited tonight when the colonel dined with Mrs. Roosevelt and his daughter. Colonel Roosevelt's stay in Albuequerque was limited to the evening hours. His program included a public address and the reception of many friends. 14 CASES BOOKED FOR BAD DRIVING

Chauffeurs, Bicyclists and Draymen in Police Toils.

The results of the agitation against violators of the the road laws began to show on the police docket yesterday, when nearly 14 cases were made for violation if the various sections of the road regulations, and included draymen and messenger boys as well as chauffeurs.

Harry Newhas, of the Dixie Garage, was arrested for violating the road ordinance, and the same offense was docketed against three negroes. The chauqeur of W. H. Kiser was arrested for exceeding the speed limit. Eight messengers got into trouble, five of them for having no bell, a special delivery boy from the post office for reckless riding of a bicycle, and another for going to the left of a car.

It is thought at the police station that more cases will be made as motorists again grow careless, the agitation of the past few days having served to make most of them keep their speed down to a reasonable rate.

BOMBARDS STREET WITH ROTTEN EGGS

Rotten eggs and ther unsavory articles figured prominently last night in a battle on Powell street, in "Factory Lot," which required the police to quiet. Ed Jenkins, 19 years old, of 52 Powell street, was locked up by Call Officers Bailey and Webb as the chief disturber.

Teh cause of the trouble is not known except that Jenkins wis drinking at the time. It is said that he assaulted everybody within reach and one lady even was the target for the over-ripe hen fruit. After all passersby had been run in-doors Jenkins turned his attention to the houses, until he was taken into custody.

JURY AT LAST SECURED TO TRY THE CAMORRA

Vinebro, Italy, March 15.—After much difficulty a jury was secured today for the trial of the 36 members of the Camorra who are charged, in various degrees, with the murders of their fellow thieves, Gennaro Cuccolo, and the latter's wife, Maria Cutinelli Cuoccolo. When the last juror had qualified President Bianchi adjourned court until this afternoon when the proceedings were resumed.

The afternoon session was given over to minor details. When the clerk of the court read the indictment, which is very lengthy, the accused Camorrists appeared indifferent and at its conclusion laughed ironically, a sthough to demonstrate their contempt for the proceedings.

IN A CEMETERY VAULT TWO PRINTERS WINTERED

Nyack, N. Y., March 15.—Two men, describing themselves as tramp printers, are under arrest here charged by the police with having made their home for the greater part of the winter in a vault in the Rockland cemetery. The men are said to have lived for nearly three months in the dark, damp room, measuring ten by twelve feet. Their improvised bed of straw and blankets was spread upon two coffins and funeral urns afforded a storehouse for their food.

SAME CHICAGO GLEE CLUB HAS GIVEN 3093 CONCERTS

CHICAGO GLEE CLUB QUARTET.

The famous Chicago Glee Club boys are coming to Atlanta for a concert at the Auditorium Friday night, March 17. They come as the ninth number on the Alkahest Lyceum course this season and will doubtless be greeted by a capacity house. All the season ticket holders will be present and besides a number of their friends.

This club is on its annual tour of the south, under the direction of the Alkahest Lyceum System of this city, having already toured the Virginias and Carolinas, and is now on its way to Florida. They will appear in the leading cities of the south, remaining down here until the first of May, before returning to Chicago. Their Atlanta engagement will be their 3,093d concert in the last twelve years of consecutive lyceum work. During this time they have not made a single change in the personnel of the company. These years of association and constant study and work together, coupled with signal individual ability, have produced a perfection of ensemble truly remarkable.

Much interest is being manifested by the patrons of the lyceum association in the Glee Club's coming, and large delegations from all the schools and colleges in and around Atlanta have made plans to be present. It will be college night and a gleeful time for everybody. Many remember this company's splendid music furnished for the Atlanta Chautauqua several years ago.

Tickets are on sale at the Alkahest offices or may be had at the door of the Auditorium Friday evening.

CAPABLE CAST PRESENTS MADAME X AT THE GRAND

Presented by as capable a cast as has appeared in Atlanta this season, equal in every particular to the one which gave the New York production its reputation, "Madame X" was presented at the Grand last evening to an enthusiastic audience.

The central thought of the play is an argument along the line of mercy for erring wives. In a way it reopens the old question, "Why should there be a double standard of morals, one for the woman, one for the man."

It brings back to mind, but in a more powerful and convincing manner, the play in which Olga Nethersole appeared in Atlanta this season. In "The Redemption of Evelyn Vaudrey" the woman in the case was able to convince the man in the last act, leaving the audience to believe that thereafter they lived happily; while in "Madame X" the woman offered the white flag in the first act, and the husband tossed her out of his house and his heart.

Somehow the play brings to the hearts of every one in the audience a genuine pity for the woman. The sorrow and the agony, and the misery of the man who has been betrayed, whose love has been belittled, whose honor has been ignored, is forgotten.

In the end, of course, the man forgives the woman for indiscretion, and remembers only he loved her in the years of long ago, when she loved him, too, and that she loves, with a love past understanding, the boy who is his son and hers.

The boy grows up into manhood, and there comes a time when he is ready to plead his first case before a French jury. The woman, his mother, has struck down in death the man who dared suggest that she use her past position to blackmail her husband and her son. In an eloquent appeal to the jury he binds fast the hands and the speech of every one of them by telling them that the woman who has slain her lover has been led astray from the path of honor by a man who has forgotten.

The jury, of course, finds for the defendant, and she is freed only after having tasted for a moment the love and the joy of recognition by her son, of having lived a "lifetime" in his arms, and dying in peace and in love, and is willing to forget the wrongs she thinks her husband has done her.

Adeline Dunlap as Madame X grasps the possibilities of the character and gives her audience a splendid exhibition of acting. While not so convincing, perhaps, in the first act, in which she has but slight opportunity, she rises to greatness in the second, where she has become a besotted thing, an absinthe and ether fiend, a woman of the streets, with but one ennobling idea, a love—latent though it be—for the boy who is of her own flesh and blood. There comes, too, to her a hate for the man who has cast her out of his house—justified or not, as the man or woman may judge it.

And in the court scene, where, through half of it, she speaks no word, but shrouds her face with her robe, she is still the center of interest. When at last, spirit broken, heart at tension, through the speech of her son, who knows her not but is defending her as her counsel on the charge of murder, her work is splendidly done. In the closing moments, when she dies almost in the arms of the boy who has freed her and acknowledged her as mother, she is finished in her acting.

Second only to Miss Dunlap—and perhaps this was as much the result of opportunity as of merit—was the work of Howard Gould, as the husband. In every way finished in his work, the gentleman shown in every line, with enough of the man revealed, he was excellent in every act.

The support accorded the two stars was very good, and capable in every character.

"Madame X" will be seen at the Grand again today, Friday, and Saturday matinee and night.

"The Girl, the Man, the Game"
(At the Lyric.)

In "The Girl, The Man and The Game", which is being presented by Billy Clifford and a splendid company this week at the Lyric, Mr. Clifford has the best role he has appeared in for years, and the popular comedian is at his best in the new musical farce. The piece is in two acts, with a large number of songs and musical numbers interspersed. There is just the proper mixture of fun and music to make the attraction enjoyable. The play is well mounted and the chorus is a real beauty one, elegantly costumed, and composed of girls who can dance and sing as well as look handsome. There will be the usual Thursday and Saturday matinees.

Emma Bunting.
(At the Grand.)

That Miss Emma Bunting, the little star of the Grand's summer stock company, will make a hit next Monday night when her season opens, there is no room for doubt since the rehearsals of "A Woman's Way", the play chosen for her first appearance under the Shubert management. Stage Manager Joseph Totten, who has been working energetically for more than a week, believes the company will do full justice to the play, and from the advance sale it is indicated that an audience will welcome the little actress such as she never played to in Atlanta before.

Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Forsyth.)

Bert Levy, the artist entertainer, is a splendid attraction at the busy Forsyth this week. The cartoonist has a decidedly novel manner in producing his pictures and the idea has caught popular fancy. The bill is one of the regular sort that is to be seen at the Forsyth and there is something to appeal to the fad and fancy of most every class of theatergoer.

The attractions for the coming week are of extraordinary consequences. The star feature will be Little Billie, the Lilliputian comedian, the tiniest headliner in vaudeville. The clever little fellow is a great favorite in the cities and his appearance here will be a splendid treat.

NEW MEXICO FAILED TO GET SQUARE DEAL

Col Roosevelt Says Territory Hasn't Treated Right About Statehood.

Rincon, N. M., March 15.—During a train-end speech here this afternoon, Colonel Roosevelt touched on the New Mexican statehood bill, which failed of passage during the recent session of congress.

"I have a peculiar feeling about New Mexico. It ought to have been a state a long time ago. It is inexcusable that it is not a state now.

"I am mightily interested in your irrigation project—the Rio Grande project. Don't let your irrigation project get mixed up with any private enterprise. You want to keep it absolutely free from any scandal or private trickery of any kind.

"I don't feel that New Mexico has been given a square deal. Go on for a few months and you will get it all right."

12 MEN KILLED AND MANY HURT

Thirty Workmen Caught By Falling Wall.

Old Building of J. H. Fall & Co., at Nashville, Tenn., Collapsed While Many Men Were Engaged at Work---Other Deaths Will Result.

Nashville, Tenn., March 15.—By the collapse of the side walls of the Fall Hardware building which was burned ten days ago, at 10:30 this morning, about thirty men were buried under tons of brick, mortar and timber. Most of those caught under the walls were negro laborers who were clearing away the debris and tearing down these walls, but there were a few white men connected with insurance companies in the building at the time. These latter were looking after the salvage.

The known dead tonight number twelve, while the injured, so far, number seventeen.

The work of removing the debris is still in progress, and it is believed other dead and wounded will be found before morning.

Ralph McCallum, unmarried, was the only white man known to have been killed. He was crushed to death. McCallum was superintendent of a salvage corps.

Edwin Hart, white, who was endeavoring to save goods in an adjoining building in the interest of the insurance companies, was badly injured, but will recover.

The other known dead and injured were negroes.

The heavy wind of the morning is supposed to have caused the walls weakened by the fire, to fall.

CHARGE AGAINST GIRL STUDENTS CAUSES LEGISLATORS TO RIOT

St. Patersburg, March 15.—An extraordinary charge against women students caused a sensational scene in the duma this evening. An interpollation on recent incidents in the high schools was under discussion when Deputy Ubrussoff, a member of the extreme right, alleged that female students during the revolutionary period, consorted in hundreds with sailors in order to carry on the revolutionary propaganda more successfully.

Shouts of "down with the blackguard" and similar indignant protests arose from the left benches, and started a scene of uproar and disorder. The president was unable to control the deputies. Ubrussoff tried to resume speaking, but in vain. Ubrussoff's supporters raised a great outcry, and the president closed the sitting. The opposing factions rushed toward the tribune, but officials threw themselves between the two parties and prevented a collision. Only when the lights were turned out did the deputies slowly quit the hall.

MRS. GADDIS FINDS HUSBAND THROUGH THE CONSTITUTION

The days of weary tramping through the streets, which caused her to attempt suicide yesterday afternoon on the lower part of Decatur street, came to an end last night for Mrs. Beulah Carlton Gaddis, when her husband called at the station for her and the happy couple went home together.

Mrs. Gaddis told her pathetic story for the Constitution Tuesday, hoping that her husband would see it and come for her. Exactly according to her prediction he saw the paper after returning from his work at the Atlanta Oil and Fertilizer works last night, and hurried to the side of his wife.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Gaddis made a supposed attempt at suicide at 516 Decatur street, when she placed a phial to her lips, remarking, "I amgoing to finish it all now." She had just been talking to J. T. Preston of her troubles, and he was fortunately near enough to know the bottle from her hands. She swallowed a few drops of the contents, but theh hospital authrities said that it was not carbolic acid, and those who saw the bottle stated that it smelled suspiciously like oil of cloves.

WINGO URGES CARE IN PREPARING ADS

Advertising Writer Makes Helpful Talk Before Ad Club.

Some very valuable suggestions on the proper methods of preparing advertising copy were given the members of the Atlanta Ad Men's Club by J. A. Wingo, a well-known ad writer, at the meeting of the club Tuesday night.

Another feature of the meeting was an address from William S. Wier, foreman of The Atlanta Journal composing room, who advocated a systematic method for ad writers in handling copy.

Mr. Wingo's talk, which was interesting throughout, was in part as follows:

"In the first place, copy carelessly prepared is as likely to fail in results as copy ignorantly prepared. Copy thrown together on scraps of wrapping paper with no indication of display desired stands a very poor chance indeed of being set into type in a manner satisfactory to the advertiser.

"Ad compositors are not mind readers; they cannot be expected to know what the advertiser wants if they are not informed. And while most printers are competent to create effective display from almost any sort of copy if given time for study, experiment and revision, this time is not available in the rush of newspaper composing rooms and commercial job printing offices.

"Merely get in your mind's eye a picture of how you wish your advertisement to appear when printed; then put this picture on copy paper as clearly and concisely as you can.

"If the ad is to contain much matter or any illustrations, first draw a diagram the exact size of space to be occupied. Print in this diagram all lines which are to be displayed in approximately the size of type desired. If in doubt as to how many words can be used in these display lines, refer to a newspaper and count the letters in a similar line, allowing for necessary spacing between words.

"The body matter should be written upon separate sheets, the space each sheet is to occupy indicated by letter or numeral on diagram and the sheets correspondingly numbered.

"This is important, as it makes possible the distribution of the work on a rush ad to two or more compositors.

"If illustrations are to be used, a proof or impression of the cut (the latter can be made with the aid of a desk ink pad) should appear on diagram in exact position it is to occupy. This, too, is important, as many times resetting becomes necessary when space allowed for cut has been too large or too small.

"Unless the writer is thoroughly versed in the printing art it is far better to leave the selection of type sizes and faces to the judgment of the printer than to attempt arbitrary specifications.

"Latitude for unimportant changes from copy should be allowed the compositor, as even the most experienced ad writer or printer will sometimes, yes, even frequently, misjudge the exact space matter may occupy when set in a certain way or in a particular type.

"If the ad has been properly prepared few changes from copy will be necessary when proof is read. This is another point worthy of emphasis, for the addition or omission of even a word or two may necessitate the resetting of practically the entire ad. Corrections should be plainly made on margin of proof—never in the body of the ad."

"SNAKING" BICYCLISTS SENT TO STOCKADE

Consternation Reigns in Juvenile Darktown Because of Aroused Policemen.

Consternation reigns in juvenile Darktown, because of the mandate which has gone forth to arrest all "snakers" and brilliant bicycle riders who have been wont to show their skill on the streets of the city. Two of their number, revelling in the names of Candy Nappy and Asbury Jackson, each drew a $10 and costs fine in police court yesterday afternoon, which they will work out in the stockade. Reckless bicyclists are regarded as dangerous to the city-at-large as speeding motorists, and orders have been given to arrest all of them.

INDISPUTABLE EVIDENCE OF

Some Remarkable Cures by the Advanced Medical Science Institute.

Mrs. M. S. Bunch, of 1826 Iona street, has been cured of eczema and is being benefited of other troubles. Mrs. Castillano, Main and Church streets, wife of the merchant by that name, passed many large gall stones after the first treatment. Mrs. Charles Coleman, R F. D. No. 1, was cured of a bad case of female trouble, a prolapsus of the uterus.

Mrs. J. S. Milner was about to undergo an operation at Barnesville, Ga. She suffered with appendicitis and gall stones. One week ago she began and the gall stones have all disappeared and the appendix is almost well.

One month ago Mr. J. W. Camp, a prominent merchant of Moreland, Ga., was threatened with cancer of the stomach. He was placed upon the ozone and high frequency treatment; today he was given a rigid examination and pronounced sound as a dollar.

L. T. Holley, of 108 Gilmer street, was threatened with tuberculosis. After the first week he was lifted out of all danger from the deadly malady and gained six pounds of solid flesh in ten days.

Mrs. McCracken, R. F. D. No. 2, was cured of a severe case of rheumatism in less than three weeks.

There is not a person being treated by the Advanced Medical Science Company, No. 415 Austell building, who is co-operating with them in every way, that isn't improving as fast as is possible by any manner of treatment in the world today. There is nothing good enough for our patients, if there is something better. Our scouts are now searching European medical centers with the ready cash, willing and anxious to purchase anything of merit. We have just received a fresh consignment of celebrated 606, mixed by the master appointed by the discoverer himself. One injection of this is guaranteed to cure any case of syphilis or malaria, and many cases of locomotor ataxia are cured instantly by its proper use.

MADAME X SCENERY AND NEGRO BLOWN IN AIR BY STRONG WIND

"Madame X" was almost totally demoralized yesterday afternoon by the strong west wind which caused discomfort to as many of Atlanta's fair ones as happened to be on the streets.

"Madame X's" trapping and fixings were torn bodily away by a cyclonic gust at the corner of Madison and West Hunter streets, and strewn along the sidewalk for a block.

As an incidental result of the tragedy, Jim Hooker, a negro, lies in the Grady hospital in a very mashed up condition. Two other negroes were blown from the wagon, but were unhurt in the fall.

When the draymen loaded up a wagon with scenery for "Madame X," prepartory to hauling the same from the Terminal station to the Grand, they neglected to tie it down. Hooker mounted to his seat and started his horses up West Hunter street. They had hardly gone a hundred feet when a gust of wind, sweeping down from the side of the Ward-Truitt building, blew in under the pieces of scenery and lifting them like so many aeroplanes, and scaled them from the truck to the street.

Hooker was caught in the back by a large portion of the courtroom scene and hurled to the street, sustaining severe bruises about the body and face.

Wings and flies, suiting the action to the word, skimmed through the air for hundreds of feet, finally smashing against the buildings on the south side of West Hunter street. Plate-glass windows in the Haynes house and the O. D. Booth livery stable were broken to fragments. A rustic bower, twined about with a profusion of paper roses, went hurtling up the street for half a block until it finally came to rest against a telegraph pole.

It was a sorry lot of French scenery that was finally collected and reloaded on the wagon—this time firmly bound down with strong ropes. When it was inspected at the opera house it was thought for a time that it would be impossible to give the evening performance of "Madame X." However, a large corps of stage carpenters, after much hasty work, succeeded in bringing order out of chaos, while Fred Sausman, the well-known scenic artist, with a brisk and liberal application of paint, again restored beauty to the fair land of France.

NEGRO SNATCH THIEF HELD IN HEAVY BOND

Mrs. S. P. Fincher Identifies the Man Who Robbed Her of Handbag.

John Gibson, 17 years old, thought to be the negro snatch thief who has terrorized defenseless women for several months past, was bound over yesterday afternoon by Judge Broyles for larceny from the person, under $1,000 bond. He was identified by Mrs. S. P. Fincher, of 226 Hilliard street, as the man who grabbed her purse last Saturday night near Houston and Hilliard streets.

Call Officers Palmer and Gorman, who caught Gibson, asked that he be held in the station house until today, when he will be tried for a similar crime committed some weeks ago.

GUARD OFFICERS READY FOR FRONT

National Guard officers of Georgia, especially those in Atlanta, are busy making preparations for their trip to the Mexican border, in spite of the fact that as yet nothing definite is known as to how many or who is going. It is not thought likely that all of the seventy-two who volunteered from Georgia will be taken at this time, but in spite of this, all are making preparations for a quick getaway in case they chance to be among the lucky ones.

There is quite a diversity of opinion among Atlanta officers as to whether or not they are likely to run afoul anything more serious than "maneuvers" while connected with the regular army. Some of them declare this far beyond the range of possibilities, while others are extremely enthusiastic over what they believe to be their prospects of getting mixed up in a real sure-enough scrap.

Among the latter is one of the best known of the local officers, who is note for his pugnacious tendencies. He declares that he's bound to go whether the government will send him or not, and that he's going to be badly fooled and still worse disappointed if he doesn't have the "h— of a time," speaking "Shermanwise," of course.

It was reported on Wednesday that Adjutant General Graves had received from the war department the list of those officers who are to go from Georgia and for a time there was quite a stir among the local men. It developed later, however, that this report was not true, much to the disappointment of the officers, all of whom are "on pins and needles" to get well on their way to "the front."

MELODY WHICH SEIZED NORTH TO BE PRODUCED IN ATLANTA

Of unusual interest to the music lovers of Atlanta is the announcement that the Atlanta Philharmonic Orchestra will, at its next two public performances—the public recital, which will be given at the Grand on Friday afternoon from 5 to 6 o'clock, and the regular concert on Sunday, the 26th—produce for the first time in the south a composition that has, during the past season in the large cities of the north, had as great a reign of popularity as was the case with the "Merry Widow" music two seasons ago.

Glowing descriptions of the exquisite beauty of the barcarolle from Offenbach's wonderful opera, "Tales From Hoffman," have been brought back from New York by Atlantans who have been fortunate enough to hear the composition there. Requiring a full orchestra of forty or fifty pieces to properly produce the weird tone effects, which are so wonderfully blended in this remarkable composition, no southern musical organization has up to this time attempted its production.

Friday's Public Rehearsal.

The public rehearsal announced for Friday afternoon by the management of the orchestra is a distinct innovation in southern musical circles, although it is by no means such in the north, where they are at times more largely attended than the formal concerts themselves. The full program for the next concert in the series will be given, Miss Caroline Crenshaw being the soloist for the rehearsal in place of Miss Anna Otten, who will appear at the concert.

The occasion will be largely in the nature of an informal public reception, punch being served during the concert by the ladies of the Atlanta Musical Association. An admission of 25 cents will be charged, the admission to the regular concert being $1.

In addition to the Offenbach composition, the program will contain a number of other airs, among them being selections from "Tannhauser," "Lohengrin" and "The Merry Wives of Windsor."

The program in full is as follows:

Overture, "Merry Wives of Windsor," Nicolai.

Two movements from Symphony in D major, Haydn; Menuetto, Allegro Spiritoso.

Recital and aria, "Leise Crise," Der Frischutz, Weber.

(a) "Babillage," Gillet; (b) "In the Mill," Gillet.

Excerpts from "Lohengrin," Wagner.

(a) "Du bist die Ruh," Shubert; (b) Non so pru "Marriage of Figaro," Mozart; (c) "La Ferenata," Tosti.

Miss Crenshaw.

"Barcarolle" from "Tales from Hoffman," Offenbach; (b) "Serenata" Tschalkowski.

March from "Tannhauser," Wagner.

MAIL CARRIER WILLIAMS CONFESSES THEFT OF $60

Williams Used Money Entrusted to Him by Patrons of His Route.

Macon, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—Jack Williams, rural mail carrier on route No. 1 out of Oglethorpe, and a prominently connected young man in that section, is in jail here on the charge of converting to his own use money entrusted to him for the purchase of money orders for them.

At a preliminary hearing this afternoon he admitted his guilt. His peculations aggregate about $60. Bond has been fixed at $500 and he will be released tomorrow. He was arrested by Postoffice Inspector Wilson.

COLE BLEASE FIRES FIVE COMMISSIONERS

Columbia, S. C., March 15.—"Neglect of duty and incapacity," are the reasons assigned by Governor Blease for an order issued last night peremptorily removing from office Dr. W. J. Murray, of Columbia; J. Steele Brice, of Yorkville; A. H. Wood, of Gaffney; Avery Patton, of Greenville, and John McSween, of Timmonsville, composing the commission to wind up the late South Carolina state dispensary.

The governor, in his proclamation, severely criticises the commissioners for contracting with Anderson, Felder, Rountree and Wilson, an Atlanta law firm, to assist in recovering from liquor houses money alleged to be due the state in connection with dealings with the state dispensary. The commission's work is practically done. Members of the commission have nothing to say except that Commissioner Patton inquires whether the governor will sign or veto the act passed last month by the legislature at the governor's own urgent request, providing for an investigation of the commission's acts.

Mexico is not the place for another Hobson hero-stunt.

Also there is the prospect of a real war on the beef trust.

All is quiet along the Georgia recuperative presidential line.

Looks more like bullets than baseball games the Texas way.

However, these March winds are pelting winter with blossoms.

Perhaps Japan is grateful for transferring the war talk to Mexico.

Saint Patrick's Day will supply whatever spring lacks of green.

No hope for the lame ducks. They couldn't scale the Texas border.

Don't miss congress at all. There's the hot air of the Mexican war-reporters.

And the jingoes are surprised at the readiness of Uncle Sam to enter any war game.

"Go south, young man." But Champ Clark didn't add, "and plow a Missouri mule."

But if airships are cheaper in price, they may become as risky as joy-riding autos.

With the Colonel near the border, the recent Mexican earthquake shocks caused no alarm.

These March winds have blown the imitation bluebirds sky-high from the wintry Easter hats.

The Colonel hops into the war-game. Let us hope that the big stick is not too frazzled to hurt.

It takes a war-scare to put the people wise to just how much of other countries J. P. Morgan owns.

March has been a great and generous month to Georgia. Don't blame him for blowing a little about it.

But there is no fear of Wall Street leaving for any seat of war while there are home lambs to fleece.

If, as a Texan predicts, "the world will come to an end before the close of the century," Bryan will never be president.

Reason Ballinger speaks so kindly of the Indians is because his resignation made him mad enough to put on war-paint.

Colonel Bryan is giving directions as to road-building for 1912. Too many superintendents. More workers wanted.

In Georgia the president finds peace from the politicians, though they are permitted to sit on the far outside barbed wire fence.

This time Senator Bailey is mad with Illinois—which is not so important as his anger with the congress of the United States.

The "Go South" advice of Champ Clark, and the work of the Commercial Congress should move capital in the right direction.

Mr. Bryan tells Boston that he is out of the race, and it's only for exercise that he does the ringworm act of running around the country.

Reform in New Jersey, under Woodrow Wilson, is genuine. A learned magistrate there rubs with a rabbit foot before he delivers a decision.

The Baltimore American says there are "poems in spring hats." That isn't strange. So many authors have to give their cheques to their wives.

TOLERATION NOT OPPOSED TO CONVICTION.

The Constitution's plea for tolerance, apropos of the criticism of a lecture of a professor of the University of Florida—a native Georgian—in which he discusses conditions and theories of the sixties, has provoked widespread discussion and comment.

One correspondent writes that while he approves heartily the general purpose and spirit of the editorial, he would have substituted "freedom of speech" for "tolerance."

We welcome Rev. H. R. Barnard, whose communication appears elsewhere today, into the discussion. He is a prominent Georgia Baptist official—a gallant ex-confederate veteran—whose opinion will be of interest and value.

The main point he makes is that he approves the idea of striking the shackles from freedom of thought and speech, and permitting the widest and frankest discussion of problems political, social, industrial and religious.

That is the overshadowing point. However, in suggesting the use of other and different language, our correspondent overlooks the wider definitions of the term "tolerance," as given in the Standard Dictionary, as follows:

"Tolerance: The spirit and desire to be tolerant in matters of opinion; a spirit of leniency; freedom from bigotry."

Under the head of tolerant is "indulgent" and "liberal."

And Webster defines tolerance as "freedom from bigotry and severity in judgment of the opinions and beliefs of others."

So much for that. It is secondary and subordinate to the main idea, which our correspondent strongly approves.

An indulgent attitude toward theories and beliefs opposed to our own does not imply a yielding of our convictions, but rather implies courage and confidence.

The point we made was that Professor Banks is entitled to hold his views and support them with what logic and reasoning power he can command.

The same thing applies to all problems of the present day—political, religious, social and economic.

Let in the light on all of them. It cannot hurt for the truth to be known.

The whole modern-day tendency is toward this frank and free discussion of all subjects.

Let the rising generation have both sides of every question preached to them, and be permitted to choose their own road. In free discussion there is progress toward truth.

In other sections of the country political principles and party policies are being argued from every angle, by men with every shade of political opinion.

What is the condition in the south? Solidly democratic for two generations, it is overlooked and passed by in the struggle for political converts and deprived of the energizing touch that comes from discussion and debate.

This is not the way to make progress. It is not the way to develop intelligent and broadly patriotic action. Talk, discussion, research, inquiry bring out the truth.

The application of the mental gag-law is opposed to all mental virility and national progress. It is a relic of the dark ages.

Let us have fair discussion, whether in politics, science, industry or art. Relegate the mental gag-law to the dungeon, with the ducking stool and the pillory of revolutionary times.

A spirit of inquiry and the attitude that invites discussion and intelligent reasoning, the opening of all avenues of information, and the encouragement of leaders to frankly utter their convictions is the attitude the south must assume to realize its true destiny.

It is particularly significant that a man like Rev. H. R. Barnard, who enlisted in the cause of the south when she needed defenders, and who has done noble work in the cause of the church since, should speak out now so strongly for greater freedom of thought and expression, whether the problem concern the old south or the old theology.

HEALTH DAY MARCH 24.

Governor Brown, in response to requests from the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs and other organizations, has set aside Friday, March 24, as Health Day, on which problems of health and hygiene will be discussed in all the schools.

Good health is the biggest single factor in the enjoyment of human life. Without health no other earthly possessions matter much.

This being true, everything that directs attention to the vital importance of preserving the public health is to be strongly encouraged.

The tremendous economic waste of disease and morbidity, the appalling annual loss of life from easily preventable diseases, the tragic death roll of infants under one year of age—all point to the supreme importance of taking drastic steps to correct and prevent this national disgrace.

The schools of the state and country are the proper place where the fundamental truths of health and sanitation should be taught. The young boys and girls are to be the mothers and fathers of the future and should be taught to know.

It is needless to quote the statistics of the deadly ravages of typhoid, tuberculosis and infantile diseases. They make up an appalling indictment of our ignorance and carelessness as a people.

The time to stop is now! Let us take an account of our health resources and health liabilities, and after finding out what to correct, go to work on that line with courage and vigor.

Good health is the product of inheritance, plus environment, multiplied by personal habits.

The whole equation can be changed by intelligent thought and study, properly applied.

Health Day should be observed in every school in the state.

CAPITALIZING AUGUSTA'S CLIMATE.

Other cities in the United States may claim the credit of having more different kinds of climate, but few can claim the salubriousness of the winter climate enjoyed by Augusta.

December and May are all the same to the city by the Savannah, and there today the president of the United States is enjoying a rest, and his next door neighbor is John D. Rockefeller, the richest man in the world, both finding in the Georgia city the environment and climate needed to make attractive a winter vacation retreat.

The people of Augusta are not at all selfish about their climate. They are perfectly willing for the world to enjoy it, only Mahomet must come to the mountain.

More easily reached from the north and middle west than any other winter resort of the southeast, Augusta is boasting of its possession of the real, original, blown-in-the-bottle variety of winter weather.

Turning aside from boosting cotton mills and other industrial establishments, Editor Loyless, with a flash of inspiration, asks:

"Why not capitalize our climate?"

A beginning has already been made, and two splendid resort hotels are doing a thriving business throughout the season. But The Chronicle insists that others could be built and operated at a profit.

Florida having demonstrated that the tourist crop can be made extremely profitable, Augusta's experience in a limited way, having confirmed it, the progressive citizens of the Georgia city are looking forward to additional dividends by capitalizing the winter sunshine.

AMEND THE AUTO LAW.

The state law for the registration of autos is charged with embarrassing the efforts of the Atlanta police to restrain and break up the practice of speeding on the roads of city and county.

Chief Jennings has issued strict orders to his men and declares he will exert every effort to prevent speeding and its inevitable sacrifice of human life.

But no arrest has yet been made, except of two negro boys charged with reckless riding on bicycles.

Meanwhile a few autos driven by reckless drivers continue to threaten the lives of pedestrians and other autoists like modern cars of Juggernaut.

What is the remedy, and when will it be applied?

Under the state law, a city policeman must actually see the violation and leave his beat to come into the city and swear out a warrant. The recorder has no authority to revoke a state license, and the case is taken out of his court. Also the patrolman loses time by being required to appear before a justice of the peace.

Meanwhile the grisly record of auto tragedies mounts steadily higher and becomes more appalling.

Ninety-five per cent of those who own and drive autos are law-abiding men, who deprecate the recklessness of the few who disregard human rights and laws.

It does not matter that the overwhelming number keep within the speed limits and exercise scrupulous care for the feelings and safety of others—the man who does not is the one whom the general public has been taught to regard as the representative of the autoist class.

A fool with a sixty horse-power machine and afflicted with the speed madness is more dangerous than a maniac with a gun.

The burden is upon the careful and law-abiding autoists to insist that the others are suppressed.

"All the winter," said the author, "I toiled away on my spring and summer novels, and all spring and summer I'll be working on my winter book. It's sad that the publishers make us write to suit the seasons. Last year I got a job with the weather bureau department, so as to strike the weather right with my literary work, but I resigned in despair, for I found that the government is not as weather-wise as a village raincrow! When all signs pointed to sunshine and violets, and I tried for a love song, the weather changed its mind, and the colonels were cracking free ice for their toddies. OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT FOR BONDS AT MACON

Citizens' Committee Working Hard to Get Out a Full Vote on Saturday.

Macon, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—It is generally believed now that the water bonds will carry at the election, Saturday. Since the Bibb county legislators announced the bill providing for the management of the waterworks, in case the city voted the bonds to purchase them, many people who had made up their minds to oppose the purchase have come out in favor of the proposition.

It will take 1,166 votes to carry the $900,000 bond issue. Of this amount $699,000 is to be paid for the water plant. The remainder of the money is to be used in extensions.

The citizens' committee in charge of the campaign has made extensive arrangements for getting the voters to the polls Saturday.

Woman Again Turned Down.

Macon, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—City council last night again refused the petition of Mrs. J. J. Flahive, the Macon woman who was convicted of running a blind tiger. Mrs. Flahive petitioned council for a restoration of her license, setting up that she needed money to keep her four children from starving. In view of the fact that a great quantity of whisky was found in her place when raided council declined the petition.

"FREEDOM" NOT "TOLERANCE" IS THE WORD HE WANTS

Editor Constitution: "The Day Past for Mental Gag-Law" is the heading of an editorial in The Atlanta Constitution, Monday, March 13.

I write to commend the argument of the editorial in favor of freedom of expression. The argument is forceful, because clearly and courageously put.

However, I fail to understand the significance of the word "tolerance" in three paragraphs, as being the right word in the right place. Toleration is defined by one of our standard dictionaries as, the act of allowing that which is not wholly approved. To tolerate is to bear. When I tolerate anything, it is understood that I have the right, at will, to suppress. The religious toleration extended to Protestants by the Roman Catholic, Lord Baltimore, was a very different thing from the views of religious freedom, as conceived and expressed by Roger Williams. My opinion on religion, politics or science, cannot be "tolerated." I object to being "tolerated." I demand the right to express myself and to abide my own convictions. I cannot undertake to "tolerate" any man, as to when, how, or where he will worship God. He has his rights. I have my rights and decline to be "tolerated" by anyone.

I quote from The Constitution:

"But The Constitution is principally concerned with pleading for and insisting upon 'TOLERANCE' as the basis of the south of the twentieth century."

We would write FREEDOM in place of TOLERANCE.

Again quoting from The Constitution:

"TOLERANCE: that is the key to which The Constitution has, probably in advance of all southern papers, pitched its arguments for southern development."

Give us FREEDOM for the basis, rather than development based on TOLERANCE.

Again quoting from The Constitution:

"TOLERANCE is the southern keynote today. In all friendliness, we urge the wisdom of the viewpoint upon our contemporaries."

Cut out "tolerance" and substitute "freedom," and I stand absolutely with you. (REV.) H. R. BERNARD.

SOME FREAK NEWS REPORTS UNDER GEORGIA DATE LINES

A REMARKABLE EXCUSE BY ROME'S LARD THIEF

Rome, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—"Jedge, I was drunk and when I run up against that mackerel, some of it fell to the floor. I jest picked it up, but didn't steal it."

The above was the excuse of Emory Clark, better known as "Greasy" Clark, the lardomaniac, offered when he was arraigned before Judge John H. Reece in the city court for stealing mackerel from the firm of Gaines & Co.

It is also charged that "Greasy" purloined another can of lard.

"How many times have you been to the chaingang, Clark?" asked Judge Reece. The negro got busy with his fingers and held up seven of them. The judge frowned, and the darkey said:

"Jedge, I am telling the truth, and you ought to let me down kinder easy."

"Well, I will give you 10 months, instead of 12, in the chaingang," pronounced the jurist.

The police have no account of the number of times that Clark has been arrested for stealing lard. He long ago acquired the title of "Greasy." He was not, however, prosecuted this time for stealing lard, but the punishment meted out to him for confiscating the mackerel will serve for both thefts.

Mule's Heart Pierced.

Quitman, Ga., March 15.—(Special.) While Horace Hill, a negro from near Boston, was driving into town recently, his mule became frightened by an automobile driven by Donald Jelks.

The old negro made strenuous efforts to hold the frightened animal, but he broke and ran away, colliding with a shade tree. The tongue of the wagon broke and pierced the mule's body, entering just beneath the shoulder, and, reaching the heart, killed him instantly.

Rabbits by Thousand.

Gainesville, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—J. J. Adams, of Klondike, was in town Friday. While here he stated that he had shipped to the Adams market at Athens during the past season 5,200 rabbits, for which he had received 15 cents each. These rabbits were retailed at the market for 25 cents each.

He says Athens people will easily eat 1,000 rabbits a week during the season. In addition to the rabbits, he has shipped 1,100 quail to Athens and Atlanta. He has bought them from hunters in this section.

Quail have been scarce in this section this year, and have therefore sold for 20 and 25 cents each. He could have sold many more, if he could have secured them.

Kitten Has Five Legs.

Vidalia, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—One of the most curious freaks that has been seen here in some time is in the possession of Harry Fouche, a painter of this place.

The Fouche family mouser recently gave birth to a family of nine kittens with 37 legs in the bunch. The kitten with the five legs did not live but a few hours, but during this time a number of curious people saw it and testify that it was really possessor of one more foot and leg than kittens are generally endowed with.

The surplus leg was attached to the kitten on its breast, just between its fore legs, and seemed to be a healthy member, just a little shorter than the others, but with bone or gristle in it.

It has been preserved in alcohol as a testimony of the curious pranks mother nature plays upon her children.

Elberton Has Youngest Grandfather.

Elberton, Ga., March 15.—(Special.) Flatwoods section of Elbert county boasts of a citizen only 33 years old who is twice a grandfather. That is to say, he has a daughter who is the fond mother of one of the cutest little babes that ever cooed, and also a son who is the father of one of the finest specimens of future manhood to be found.

This man's name is Will Yeargin. He is 33 years old, just about the age the average man marries, and yet he is a grandfather. He married a Miss Davis when he was 17 years old, and since that time has been farming in the Flatwoods, where he was born and reared, and has accumulated a competency, all earned by the sweat of his brow. He is worth between $15,000 and $20,000, is this grandfather who has fairly got started in life.

Mr. Yeargin's daughter followed the example of her father and married young. She was 16 years old when she gave her heart and hand to the man of her choice. His son was a year older when he married. Both give fair promise of becoming grandparents as early in life as has their father, if not succeeding in lowering the record by a few months, at least.

CITY NEWS

Hendricks Recovers Slowly.—The cases of Mrs. C. R. Burnham, Mr. Burnham and A. L. Hendricks were again postponed yesterday afternoon for one week, owing to the continued illness of Mr. Hendricks, who was so seriously cut by Mr. Burnham some time ago in a fight over the latter's wife. It was said that Mr. Hendricks' wounds are healing poorly, and it may be necessary to remove him from his home, 26 West Peachtree street, to the hospital and perform an operation on his cheek.

Miss Rankin Thanked.—Camp W. H. T. Walker, United Confederate Veterans, which for some time has been holding its meetings at the Carnegie library, has passed formal resolutions of thanks to Miss Julia Rankin for her courtesy in allowing the hall for the veterans' use. The camp has now secured suitable quarters for its meetings, but the resolution says that they are not more comfortable and inviting than the hall provided by Miss Rankin. The resolution, which is a very cordial and sincere expression of gratitude from the veterans, was gotten up by a committee consisting of W. P. Archer, J. H. Shellnutt and Dr. M. C. Martin.

Walter Cooper Goes Fishing.—Walter Cooper, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, left the city last night at 7 o'clock for a fishing trip to Florida, where he goes to rest after the strenuous work the Southern Commercial Congress meetings put upon him. He expects to be gone something over 10 days, and says that in the time he is away he will not think once of anything that in any way remotely resembles business. He expects to devote himself religiously to catching and weighing fish. The latter he considers by no means the less important of the two.

Christian Bible School.—Rev. Robert M. Hopkins, of Cincinnati, Ohio, spoke three times Sunday to the Christian churches of Atlanta. At 11 a. m. he was at the First church, at 7:30 p. m. at the West End church, and at 3 p. m. there was held a large union meeting at the First church. Mr. Hopkins is national Bible-school secretary of the Christian church, and is making a tour of the southern cities. The audiences were delighted with his pleasing and helpful presentation of the work. A city organization will result from his visit. This union will work to develop the Bible schools in the city. Mr. Hopkins left Monday for a visit to Macon and Savannah.

BUTTS COUNTY SUES BIG POWER COMPANY

Wants $10,000 for Failure to Build Bridge as Per Contract.

Jackson, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—Butts county has brought suit against the Central Georgia Power Company, of Macon, in the sum of $10,000, for alleged failure to build a bridge across the Ocmulgee river at Dempsey's Ferry, as per a contract.

Several months ago the county and the power company entered into a contract whereby the company was to build a bridge across the Ocmulgee before its power plant was started up. Failing to do this, Butts county sought to enjoin the power company from filling its reservoir. Judge Felton, before whom the matter was brought, refused to grant theh injunction proceedings. Then Butts county brought suit for failure on the part of the power company to comply with its contract.

New Track at Milledgeville.

Milledgeville, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—The Georgia railroad is at work on an extension track, which will connect the "dummy line," belonging to the railroad on Hancock street, with the site of the new Georgia Normal and Industrial college building, now in course of construction. All materials used in the work on the building will be delivered on the spot by the railroad.

Diamond Grades and Prices in Plain Figures

Ours is strictly a one-price house. In order to get the marked prices, we must be very sure that they are right before the goods are offered for sale.

If we were to mark our goods too high, you would soon find that we were above the market, and the result would be an immediate and material falling off in business.

Therefore, we are careful in marking our diamonds.

Through the experience of over thirty years our diamond expert has attained a high degree of skill. To prevent the possibility of a mistake, and to insure our prices being as low as we can possibly afford, our President, Mr. Maier, carefully checks every grade and re-weighs every diamond.

We guarantee the correctness of our weights and grades. The fact that our diamond business is increasing at the rate of 50 per cent yearly, is positive proof that our prices are as low, or lower, than similar goods can be bought for anywhere else.

We have a diamond booklet that explains our system of grading which will be a real help to you in buying. It quotes actual weights, grades and net cash prices, and, as we have said before, we would not dare quote prices in this way if we were not sure that other dealers could not cut below us, but they do not, and cannot.

Write for this booklet today.

ONE DRUID HILLS MURDERER FREE

One Hanged and Another On Way to Gallows.

As He Was Sentenced to Death, Ed Weaver Told the Court Emmet Walker, Who Was Acquitted, Killed Motorman Brown--Absolves Two Others.

With the sentence of death pronounced upon him for participation in the Druid Hills street car murder last year, Ed Weaver yesterday told Judge Roan, in DeKalb superior court, that Emmet Walker positively fired the shot that killed Motorman Brown.

Emmet Walker is free today, having been tried and acquitted because of a conflict in the evidence.

Charley Walker, who, Ed Weaver said, shot Conductor Bryson, was found guilty and hanged.

Weaver, who was sentenced Wednesday to be hanged on Friday, April 14, admits that he was a participant in the crime which cost Motorman Brown his life and kept Conductor Bryson in the hospital for months.

These three, he declared in his statement to the court, planned and executed the crime.

Exculpates Others.

Further, Ed Weaver declared to the court that Charlie Julian and Jim Black, two other negroes who are now held in jail as participants in the Druid Hills murder, had nothing to do with it and were not there when the crime was committed.

Emmet Walker's acquittal came about as the failure of Conductor Bryson to identify him as one of the men, probably because Walker was taking care of the motorman. Instead of Walker, Conductor Bryson thought Julian was in the party.

Indications are, therefore, that the man who committed the actual murder in this case, the slayer of the motorman, is the only one to make a getaway, for having been once in jeopardy, he cannot again be tried.

Solicitor General C. S. Reid decided, under the circumstances, not to try Julian and Black at this time. They will be held in jail for a time, and if no additional evidence can be secured against them, they will have to be released.

CASHIER DOOLY GOES TO JACKSONVILLE BANK

Splendid Promotion for Former Atlanta Man Now Located in Macon.

Macon, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—Oscar F. Dooly, cashier of the American National Bank and vice president of the Continental Trust Company, has resigned his position to become vice president in charge of one of the large national banks in Jacksonville, Fla. Mr. Dooley's resignation is effective April 1. The announcement of his resignation has been received with great regret in Macon. He was one of the most popular young men in the city and stood at the very front in the banking profession. Mr. Dooly came to Macon ten years ago from Talbotton to become cashier of the Home Savings bank.

Mr. Dooly is originally from Atlanta. He started in the banking business under W. S. Witham of that city.

FELDER HARLEY'S LIFE SAVED BY SALESMAN

Well-Known Valdostan Came Near Bleeding to Death From Injured Arm.

Valdosta, Ga., March 15.—(Special.) Felder Harley, of this city, would have bled to death from a cut on the arm which he received at the store of the Harley Hardware Company but for the timely assistance given him by Mr. Jones, a salesman in the store.

Mr. Harley fell, his hand crashing through a showcase. The veins and leaders in the wrist except the main leader to the thumb, were severed. Mr. Jones hastily bound a handkerchief above the wound, and summoned a physician who succeeded in stopping the flow of blood.

LAWYERS AND DOCTORS TAXED BY ALABAMA

Tax of $5 Each Will Net the State $50,000 Per Annum.

Montgomery, Ala., March 15.—In the committee of the whole this afternoon the house adopted a section of the revenue bill offered by Representative Mastin, of Montgomery, taxing lawyers and doctors $5 each per annum.

Under the constitution of Alabama no member of the legislature can vote on a proposition in which he is financially interested, and this debarred a large minority of the members from opposing the measure. It will net the state $50,000 a year.

O'Neal Names Military Staff.

Montgomery, Ala., March 15.—Gov. Emmet O'Neal today announced the appointment of Major W. J. Vaiden, of Uniontown, as inspector general on his military staff for the next four years, and the appointment of General Robert F. Ligon, of Montgomery, as quartermaster general. Both appointments were immediately confirmed by the senate by a unanimous vote. Both appointees hold the rank of brigadier general.

COLD MARCH WIND BLOWS ATLANTA

Almost Freezing Weather Due Today.

Decidedly Colder Weather Is Predicted for the Entire Country East of the Mississippi. High Gale Makes All Atlanta Cold.

The thermometer is due to drop to the freezing point almost, today, according to the forecast of the Atlanta weather bureau, issued yesterday afternoon.

High winds prevailed in Atlanta all day Wednesday, blowing people almost off their feet and sending the dust in the eyes of those who weren't careful.

The weather man predicts a drop of 30 degrees or more, but those whose only means of observation are their feelings will think that the mercury has gone down 60 degrees; because for the past several weeks Atlanta has been enjoying such balmy weather. The cold will seem to strike deeper and chill more for this reason.

At Other Places.

In the northwest the thermometer will probably drop below zero. Early dispatches from St. Paul say that the official temperature there was one degree above zero long before nightfall. In addition to the cold there was a 60-mile gale sweeping over the city. In North Dakota and Canada zero temperatures prevail. Winnipeg reported six degrees below zero; Minnedoca 12 below; Qu'Apelle 8 below, and Prince Arthur 8 below.

Washington despatches say that stormy weather will prevail along the Atlantic coast, and warnings to shipping have been displayed all the way from Eastport, Maine, to Cape Hatteras. The storm, according to the telegram, is moving from the Great Lake region and was due to reach the coast last night.

Decidedly colder weather is predicted for the entire country east of the Mississippi, and in some of the northern states cold wave warnings have been posted.

Snow flurries were forecast for the lake region, the upper Ohio valley, and the northern Atlantic states during Wednesday night, but east of the Mississippi the prediction is for fair weather.

Will Hardly Hurt Fruit.

There is no way of telling for certain whether or not the peach crop will be injured. In some sections of the state it is thought that the fruit is far enough advanced to escape damage from the frosts, but in the northern part of Georgia, the cold will be injurious unless winds prevent the formation of killing frosts.

"Heavens," exclaimed the Gopher yesterday as he came in blinking dust tears, and rubbing his eyes in a dazed sort of a manner. "Such sights I have seen today. I am really ashamed to speak about them, and when I was on the car I turned my kid sister's head away from the streets. The wind was certainly in some motion Wednesday, and it blew the skirts into somewhat of a frou-frou; but that wasn't all. Some freakish and playful gale caught up something queer that certainly caused Peachtree pedestrians to stare. A straw hat, with a man actually attached to it, came walking down the streets right in the teeth of that March wind, and with the thermometer dropping so fast you could almost hear it slide down the tube. Straw hats! No, this is not the annual jab at the early sport. It is the actual truth, and if necessary can be put in affidavit form."

HE HAD HIS NERVE WITH HIM ALL RIGHT.

Legality of Mrs. Eddy's Will.

Boston, March 15.—The question of the legality of the bequests of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy to the Christian Science church, under the Massachusetts statute, which prohibits bequests to any one church of sums yielding more than $2,000 income, is involved in a friendly suit brought by the directors of the church against three trustees for Mrs. Eddy and argued today before the supreme judicial court.

Severe Rainstorm.

Milledgeville, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—A severe rainstorm was had here Monday night, accompanied by much thunder and lightning. The rain was much needed by the farmers and was a welcome relief to the city dwellers, as the streets were unusually dusty for this season of the year.

Creates Scene When Arrested.

Macon, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—Mrs. Frances Wood, aged 42, a well-known lady living in East Macon, was committed to the county jail this afternoon on a writ of lunacy sworn out by relatives. She created a scene when arrested.

KENEFICK OKLA

IN ALL THE WORLD NO TOWN LIKE THIS.

If you will mail me the coupon below, I will send you some positive proof how you can invest a few dollars each month in the fastest growing new town in the United States — Kenefick, Oklahoma. I will tell you how it grew from a bald spot on the prairie to a small city in a few months, and the reasons why this great change was possible. It now contains modern buildings and improvements that are wonderful for so short a time. There are people formerly from all over the United States making their homes at Kenefick, merchants with thousands of dollars invested in all kinds of merchandise, water that cannot be excelled for purity, surrounding country the most productive in Oklahoma, natural asphalt beds in unlimited quantities, glass sand which will manufacture the highest grade of glass products, railroad facilities which are unequalled for so young a town.

How could I sell over $100,000 worth of lots in this town during the past few months, and have these investors build houses and business blocks, if the above assertions were not absolutely true?

Kenefick property is today the best investment possible for the small investor; you pay no interest, and get possession of your property after the first payment is made. Can you place a few dollars to any better advantage than putting it in good, growing property like this, that you can see any time you want? It is not like putting it into something that is controlled only by a few men, but into a town where already 750 persons have invested their money, and where more than $100,000.00 have been spent in substantial improvements. Where the president of the railroad which made this town possible, and from whom it derived its name, invested nearly $17,000.00 in a modern two-story building; where I myself have invested many thousands in erecting buildings which I now own and will not sell.

I refer by permission to the following banks: New England National Bank, National Reserve Bank, Kansas City, Mo.; Oklahoma State Bank, Muskogee, Oklahoma; Kenefick State Bank, Kenefick, Oklahoma.

$1,000 FINE IMPOSED ON CHAS. UNDERWOOD

Americus Saloon Keeper Pleads Guilty Before Judge Crisp.

Americus, Ga., March 15.—(Special.) One thousand dollars was the cash fine imposed here today by Judge Charles Crisp upon Charles W. Underwood, upon his plea of guilty to two charges of violating the prohibition law. The fine was promptly paid and charges against Underwood nol prossed.

Judge Crisp would have undoubtedly imposed a more severe penalty but for Underwood's physical condition, and affidavits of physicians to that effect.

In a recent raid upon Underwood's saloon here the officersc onfiscated eight barrels of liquor, and the city council immediately revoked his special license to sell near-beer.

KEEP SECTIONALISM OUT OF CONGRESS

Greenwood, Miss., March 15.—In a campaign speech here yesterday United States Senator Leroy Percy characterized as "utter silliness" any attempt to secure the repeal of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the constitution as advocated by his opponent, Governor Vardaman.

"It would be like entering a large powder magazine with a lighted candle," said Senator Percy, "to bring this question up in congress now."

He told his audience that even Senators Tillman and Money set still in their seats, "without the utterance of a syllable," when a western senator recently injected sectionalism into the debate on the pension bill in the senate.

WILL COUNTY HELP ON TRUNK SEWERS?

City to Submit Question to Board.

Council Agrees to Pay for the Intercepting Sewers if County Will Lay Them From the Trunk Sewer Termini On Out.

Following the adoption of a resolution introduced in council at the last meeting by Councilman Evins and Councilman Chambers, the board of county commissioners, at the next meeting will have submitted to it a proposition to extend the trunk sewers provided for in the bond issue to points beyond the city limits.

Under the present plan the trunk sewers will not be extended to the city limits, but will stop approximately a mile inside, it having been contemplated to use intercepting sewers which are considerably smaller than the trunk sewers, from the termini of the latter to the disposal plants. The trunk sewers are from 8 to 15 feet, while the intercepting sewers are about 4 feet in size.

The resolution adopted by the council provides that the city shall turn over to the board of county commissioners the sum of money equalling the cost of the intercepting sewers and that the county shall pay the additional expense by converting the intercepting sewers into tsunk sewers and carrying them to points beyond the city limits.

The four most important trunk sewers are the Loyd street sewer, the Butler street sewer, the Orme street sewer and the Proctor street sewer. It is estimated that the cost of converting the intercepting sewers into trunk sewers will approximate about $600,000.

While the proposition of the city has not been formally presented to the board of county commissioners, it has been talked generally among the members, and it is believed that a satisfactory agreement will be reached. It has been proposed that the property owners, whose property will be touched by the sewers, should be requested to assist in defraying the expense of the work, inasmuch as the trunk sewers will be of far greater value than the intercepting sewers, because of their greater size.

By the terms of the resolution, Aldine Chambers, chairman of the sewer committee, was authorized to go before the county commissioners with the proposition regarding the sewers and he will probably take up the matter with that body at the next meeting.

PRESIDENT DEFEATS MARTIN LITTLETON

Taft Made a Medal Score at Golf of 97 for 18 Holes.

Augusta, Ga., March 15.—President Taft and Representative Martin W. Littleton, of eNw York, played an interesting game of golf today. The match was arranged last Saturday. In a way it was heralded as a contest between the republican and democratic parties, and the president, as the representative of the former, unexpectedly won. Mr. Littleton, who at the last election had the distinction of defeating Colonel Roosevelt's friend and neighbor, Congressman Cocks, of Oyster Bay, was regarded by the experts here as having a shade on the president at the royal game. But he was taken entirely off his guard by the president's game today, and Mr. Taft won rather handily by a score of 3 up and 1 to play. The entire eighteen holes were played out and the president's medal score was 97 to Mr. Littleton's 99.

The match attracted great attention among the golfers at the Country Club.

Mr. Littleton came in for a good deal of chiding, in which the president laughingly joined with the remark that "you democrats are always letting us republicans beat you." Declaring he felt "utterly chagrined," the congressman left late today for New York.

Taft Greets Dalzell.

Returning from the golf links, President Taft found Representative John Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, waiting to see him.

"Hello, John," he exclaimed, "what the deuce are you doing here? Have you come to tell me you have changed your mind and that you are going to vote for Canadian reciprocity?"

The president's laughter rang through the corridors of the hotel as he slapped the congressman on the back.

"Not by a darned sight," replied Mr. Dalzell, with a smile that had much of the grim about it.

John D. Rockefeller, who occupied quarters close to the president's at the hotel where both were stopping, left today for New York. It was reported here that Mr. Rockefeller, in the belief that the United States supreme court soon will hand down a decision in the Standard oil trust cases, desired to be close in touch with the situation at New York. Mr. Taft and Mr. Rockefeller met but once—a passing salute yesterday on the golf links at a distance of 200 feet.

Two Fires in Gwinnett.

Lawrenceville, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—Two residences were burned a few miles above here last night. One belonged to a Mr. Teague, and the other was the old Dallis Gunter home place. It is understood that but little of the household goods of either of them was saved.

MONCRIEF FURNACE COMPANY AND ITS GROWING BUSINESS

In 1895, which is about sixteen years ago, Mr. S. P. Moncrief, of this city, organized the Moncrief Furnace Company. He owns all the stock and, of course, controls the company. Antedating the date of organization he had obtained letters patent from the United States government on an original and scientific method of hot-air heating. Since that time he has devoted his splendid ability to the manufacture and sale of his furnaces.

The Moncrief Furnace Company is the first successful company of its character south of Louisville, Ky., to engage in the manufacture of hot-air furnaces. So successful has been its efforts in this especial line of work that its goods have been widely distributed from Virginia to Texas. It has placed hundreds of Moncrief furnaces in residences, school buildings, churches and large buildings in Atlanta, Augusta, Macon, Athens, Griffin, Valdosta, Birmingham and other towns and cities of the south.

It is claimed that not one single furnace in the large number that has been built and sold has ever been returned because of defect or non-fulfillment of everything guaranteed. This is a wonderful record, but those who know of the reliability of the company and its special guarantee are not surprised at this statement.

The company also installs steam and hot water plants; also cooling plants, and guarantees the work in every particular.

Last year when the city decided to install heating and ventilating plants in the old school buildings, the Monorief Company was awarded the contract for four of the buildings. These plants were all completed and turned over to the city in advance of any other buildings which were installed by other contractors.

Mr. S. P. Moncrief has with him in his work, D. A. Wheeler as an expert engineer.

Now is the time to put in your residences and buildings a cooling and heating plant, and it is doubtful if you could find a company more highly recommended by everyone who has tried its furnaces. Always the first thought with a man when he contemplates building, is how he will heat his house. Mr. Moncrief could interest such a man, for his furnaces are especially suited for the southern climate. There are many days in winter when heat is not needed at all. The hot-air furnaces can be arranged to supply every need. The steam and hot water furnaces have every advantage if you want a steady, uniform heat, but many people prefer hot-air furnaces, especially if Moncrief furnaces.

This company has its headquarters at 139 S. Pryor street. They will be pleased to furnish you with any points about the Moncrief Furnaces, steam or hot water system.

MISS KINNEY TO DESIGN SHAFTS TO WOMANHOOD OF THE SOUTH

Durham, N. C., March 15.—(Special.) General Julian S. Carr, president of the confederate women's monument committee, "an organization designed to erect upon the grounds of each capitol of the eleven southern states a monument to the memory of southern women, who really fought the war between the states," today signed and executed a contract with Miss Belle Kinney, artist and sculpturess, formerly of Tennessee, but now of New York, for the execution and erection of three monuments to southern womanhood.

Of these three monuments one is to be erected by the state of Arkansas, and one by the state of Tennessee.

The confederate women's monument committee is a corporation chartered under the laws of the state of Tennessee, General Julian S. Carr, president of the executive committee; Colonal John P. Hickman, of Nashville, Tenn., secretary. The general committee is composed of 12 or 15 gentlemen, all ex-confederate soldiers, such names as General Clement Evans, of Georgia, General Waddell, and others, constituting the committee.

The contract with Miss Kinney calls for ten monuments, but the committee does not see its way clear to enter into contract at the present time for but three for immediate construction.

ATLANTA WOMEN FIGHT TO GET CLEAN FOOD LAW

Atlanta women, particularly the club women, are working energetically and enthusiastically to secure the passage of a city ordinance which will insure the sanitary handling of foodstuffs. The formal ordinance was presented recently in council, but was tabled, and the women of the city are now getting in behind the movement with a firm determination to secure the passage of the measure if it is possible.

One of those interested in the movement says: "We do not want to work too great hardship on our dealers, but other cities much smaller than Atlanta are enforcing more stringent pure-food laws than this. We have a right to ask for clean food and decent handling of the same."

The proposed ordinance is to apply only during the warm months. The Atlanta Woman's Club at its last regular meeting heartily indorsed the movement.

The ordinance requires that all meat markets, restaurants, stores, depots, and other places of business where food are offered for sale, shall be thoroughly screened so as to prevent the ingress and egress of flies; that all bakers be required to wrap each loaf of bread separately prior to delivery, and that no articles of food of any kind shall be displayed outside of any store, bakery, restaurant and similar places.

The penalty for the violation of the ordinance is placed at $100 or a sentence to work on the public works for not more than 30 days.

"MIKADO" WILL BE REPEATED BY COMPANY OF LOCAL TALENT

There will be a rehearsal of the "Mikado" this evening at the parlors of the Becht Piano Company, No. 110 Temple Court, and a few more for the chorus, ladies and gentlemen, are desired.

It is planned by the members of the "Mikado" personnel to produce a series of comic operas during the early spring at one of Atlanta's popular playhouses, the cast and chorus to be local talent, supplemented by rich costuming and accurate stage delineations.

The operas chosen are "The Mikado," "The Chimes of Normandy" and "The Mascot." All of these are standard comic operas of delightful musical composition and opportunities for a good display of talent. Some popular benefit will be assisted at a performance of each opera.

Atlanta talent produced "The Mikado" very artistically and beautifully during the past winter, and will again portray this classical gem, together with the others named, at an early date. A beautiful dance is also to be introduced by skilled terpsichoreans.

"Mrs. John Hays Hammond, whom the girls of Lindale so prettily honored a few days ago, is a southern woman (she is a native of Mississippi), and she says her husband is the head of the family, and she never has wished it to be otherwise. She has no sympathy with the suffragette movement—which might have been guessed—and she thinks her first concern is her home. Says Mrs. Hammond: 'Should the home be one of luxury, very well; but should it be one containing only the bare necessaries, it may be made a palace in which there reigns a queen and a king.'"

DAILY FASHION HINTS

By Marie Montaigne.

Like flowers in bas-relief upon gossamer, such are the decorations in heavy, raised embroideries upon such textures as marquisette, mull, batiste, and the like; never has Dame Fashion evolved such elaboration in embroidery as one sees upon thin gowns for wear during the coming seasons.

A very lovely and practical gown of embroidered marquisette.

A very lovely and practical gown is the embroidered marquisette shown in this illustration. It is creamy white, and may be worn outdoors at a Palm Beach garden party, to a reception in Havana or the Bermudas, in the hotel palm rooms of an evening during the carnival season in New Orleans, or to indoor affairs in New York at any time. Such a dress is very practical, because it may serve so many purposes. A colored silk slip worn beneath it and a ribbon or so will afford a change of color sufficient to make it appear a different costume.

Baby Irish lace is used with the embroidery, and adds delicacy and charm to the effect. A pretty idea is the arrangement of ball fringe over bodice, sleeves and hem, and the draping of a baby Irish lace over the tops of the sleeves.

The design in which this gown is made, with its shield-shaped panel in the front of the bodice, is one in which a great many summer dresses can well be fashioned. The shield may be made of all-over embroidery, edged with a frill of Valenciennes lace, and the guimpe and sleeves might be of finely-tucked mull or lawn with all-over embroidery and lace trimmings. A charming and inexpensive skirt could have a thin upper portion fitted over the hips by means of tucks, and a band of all-over embroidery would make a handsome decoration above a scanty flounce. Lace between the embroidery and dress would be very attractive.

Something You Want to Know

Don't you want to know that we now make a spaghetti better than it's made in Rome?

It is so much better than any you ever tasted that you'll be amazed when you find it out.

Our chefs spent two years in perfecting the recipe. The result is a secret so valuable to us that we never have written it down.

This is the most popular dish that ever went out from our kitchens. And that means a great deal.

We have been cooking good things for nearly fifty years. Every year now the homes of America spend ten million dollars to get them.

But we never made anything which people welcomed as they welcome this spaghetti.

There are 17 ingredients used in the making, the main of which are these:

Durum wheat spaghetti.
Herkimer County full cream cheese.
Best creamery butter.
The same expensive tomato sauce we use in Van Camp's Pork and Beans.

The dish comes ready-cooked. All you have to do is to heat it.

You will invariably find it the best dish on your table, no matter how good all the other things are.

And you'll find that everyone likes it better than they ever liked spaghetti before.

One can will prove it. Order now.

CAPT. AUSTIN KNIGHT CONTRADICTS MARSHALL

Sensation Created at Wednesday's Session of Knight Court-Martial.

Norfolk, Va., March 15.—A sensation was created at today's session of the Knight court-martial when Captain Austin M. Knight, president of the naval ordnance board, testifying in his own behalf, flatly contradicted the testimony of Rear Admiral W. A. Marshall, given earlier in the trial. Rear Admiral Marshall declared that neither Captain Knight nor anyone else had notified him in person or by telephone of anything concerning the monitor Puritan at the conclusion of the explosive tests.

Captain Knight, who is being tried on charges of negligence of duty in connection with the sinking of the Puritan after the tests, while on the stand today testified that by telephone he had notified Admiral Marshall in person of the conclusion of the tests and that the ship was ready to be taken to the Norfolk navy yard.

BIG SUMS OF MONEY LOST BY CARNEGIE

Iron Master Never Got Back What He Loaned Trust Company.

New York, March 15.—There were three important developments today in the grand jury's investigation into the affairs of the defunct Carnegie Trust Company.

The district attorney announced that Andrew Carnegie may be called as a witness.

It was stated that Joseph G. Robin, who has pleaded guilty to larceny in connection with his banking operations, probably will be the principal witness tomorrow.

It came out in the text of a letter made public that William J. Cummins, a directing head of the Carnegie Trust Company, was recommended to Charles H. Hyde, the city chamberlain, who supervises the deposits of city money, by Robert J. Rollins, now counsel for the state banking department. Thousands of dollars of city funds have been tied up in the failure of the trust company and in Robin's institutions.

With regard to Mr. Carnegie, District Attorney Charles S. Whitman made this statement today:

"The books of the trust company show that Andrew Carnegie lent it vast sums of money. He never got it back, and I think it is doubtful if he ever will get it back.

"It is more than likely that Mr. Carnegie will be asked to tell the grand jury about these loans. He will be called if the evidence shows that his testimony is necessary."

WOMAN WHO SLEW SON DECLARED TO BE SANE

Y., March 15.—Testimony in the trial of Mrs. Edith Melbar, the young widow, who is charged with having killed her child by administering carbolic acid, was practically closed when the court adjourned this afternoon, and the case is expected to go to the jury by tomorrow night. Three physicians who have made a life study of mental disorders, testified today that in their judgment the woman is rational and was mentally sound when the act was committed.

MAYOR GAYNOR OFFERS TO ARBITRATE STRIKE

Provided Adams Express Drivers Return to Work at Once.

New York, March 15.—Mayor Gaynor came out with a letter tonight offering to act as arbitrator in the strike of Adams Express Company employees, provided the men return to work at once and appoint a committee to present their grievances to him. "I have assurances from the company," he writes, "which enable me to say that such grievances will be rectified." If action is taken immediately, he concludes, he believes the strike will be settled to the satisfaction of everybody.

The general strike threatened last night by the strike leaders did not materialize today.

ROBBED WOMAN SEEKS HER JEWELS AT AIKEN

Mrs. Mauldin Drummond Now Seeking a Clew at the Winter Colony.

Aiken, S. C., March 15.—(Special.)—Mrs. Mauldin Drummond, of London, formerly Mrs. Marshall Field, Jr., of Chicago, who was recently robbed of jewels valued at $130,000, arrived here today accompanied by her husband who is a London banker.

It is said that Mrs. Drummond and her husband have come to Aikin in response to a "tip" that they may get a clue to the jewels here.

According to the report, Mr. and Mrs. Drummond were ready to sail for London when they learned that they might find a clue to the jewels here, and they at once left for the south.

It is understood that Mr. and Mrs. Drummond were accompanied to Aiken by a detective who has been working on the case.

The report that Mr. and Mrs. Drummond had come here to look for the stolen gems caused a sensation in the winter colony which is made up of wealthy residents of eastern cities.

TOWNS SUFFERING FROM THE STRIKE

500 Deputies Summoned to Keep Order Along Queen & Crescent.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 15.—Outside of the summoning of 500 deputy sheriffs at Somerset, Ky., to preserve order, there was no developments in the strike of the firemen of the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific railroad today. Apparently no move was made by either the striking firemen or officials of the road looking toward peace.

Passenger trains were running nearly on schedule time in and out of this city today, but freight trains were not moving and according to reports have not moved north of Somerset for the last 48 hours.

That various points along the road are beginning to suffer from the strike was indicated by the reports of shortage of fuel. The first real indication of this came tonight in a report from Somerset, Ky., which stated that the electric light plant of that place would be closed down tomorrow for the lack of coal.

Alvin Cundiff, charged with having shot Detective James Carl, will have a hearing on writ of habeas corpus before Judge Bethurum at Somerset tomorrow. The claim is made that the crime was committed in Tennessee and that the Kentucky courts have no jurisdiction. Cundiff denies all knowledge of the shooting.

TILLMAN DESPONDENT OVER HIS CONDITION

Augusta, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—Senator Tillman does not believe that he will ever recuperate from his recent illness. This was the tenor of an interview secured from him last night at the close of the Carolinian's spring shopping trip to Augusta.

When told that he was looking much better than might be expected after reading newspaper accounts of his health, he said:

"My appearance misleads everyone. I look well and I tell people I am well, but I find when I try to do the things that I formerly did, and wish to now, that I am weak, and not able to do much."

Volunteers Inspected.

Macon, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—The Macon Volunteers, one of the crack military organizations of the state, was inspected by Major F. L. Palmer of the United States army tonight. The company made the usual fine showing. Captain Isaacs had the company in fine condition for the inspection, and the members are confidently expecting to again lead the state in percentage this year.

Inspector Robider Under Fire.

Savannah, Ga., March 15.—(Special.) Verbal charges have been filed against A. Robider, city plumbing inspector, alleging incompetency. The mayor has instituted an investigation. It is understood that the aldermanic committee on public health lodged the complaint, and that several plumbers are ready to testify as to the alleged incompetency of the inspector. Robider denies all charges.

Hospital Nurses on Strike.

Seattle, Wash., March 15.—Twelve nurses employed in the King County hospital went on strike last night, leaving 250 patients to be cared for by Dr. William P. O'Rourke, superintendent of the hospital, and two nurses who declined to join in the walk-out. The strike followed a refusal of an increase in wages by the board of county commissioners.

KEBLER TESTIFIES IN COCA COLA CASE

Government Chemist Says the Syrup Contains Caffeine.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 15.—In the hearing of the case of the United States against a certain number of barrels and kegs of Coca Cola in the federal court here today, some of the most interesting testimony yet brought out was given by Dr. Lyman F. Kebler, chief of the drug department of the bureau of chemistry, Washington, D. C. Dr. Kebler is the chemist who made the test of Coca Cola and today he testified that Coca Cola contains caffeine, declaring that to each eight-ounce glass there was one and one-fourth grains of caffeine, which, he says, is poison.

Dr. Kebler cited many eminent authorities in proof of his statement that caffeine is a poison and gave a number of deaths reported as being caused by its use. One of these writers had reported a case where four and one-half grains of the drug had produced death, and declared that about three glasses of Coca-Cola contained this amount of caffeine. He also testified to the alleged unsanitary condition of the Coca-Cola plant in Atlanta.

Allege that Drink Is Misbranded.

Dr. Morgan, of the bureau of chemistry, Washington, and Dr. H. C. Fuller, his assistant, were recalled to tell of their experiments with caffeine and rabbits.

Dr. Busby, who was recalled to the stand by the government, testified along the line of the name of the drink Coca-Cola and stated that no other product bore the name of either "coca" or "kola."

Government chemists stated that Coca-Cola contained neither coca nor kola and the effort of the government will be to prove that the drink is misbranded.

Dr. John H. Musser, professor of medicine, of the University of Pennsylvania; Dr. S. Solis Cohen, professor of clinical medicine, Jefferson Medical college, of Philadelphia; Dr. John Witherspoon, professor of clinical medicine, Vanderbilt university, Nashville, and Dr. J. T. Searcy, superintendent of the insane hospital, Tuscaloosa, Ala., will be on the witness stand tomorrow.

The children are fat and happy when they eat K K K Flour.

CRIPPLES BATTLE FOR A SINGLE BED

Rome Hotel Scene of an Amusing, Yet Pathetic, Incident.

Rome, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—The amusing, yet pathetic, story of a midnight battle for a bed between two cripples who wielded knives, crutches and canes as weapons was related this morning in police court.

The principals in the fray were J. L. McAfee, who limps through life with the aid of a cane, and John Cronois, a stranger from Florida, who left a leg a few weeks ago on the operating table of the Grady hospital. Owing to the age and decrepitude of them both the recorder extended mercy and allowed them to go with a warning to fight no more.

The battle arose from a misunderstanding as to which was entitled to a bed at Austin's hotel on Broad street.

TOO NERVOUS TO SLEEP

Mrs. Martin Explains About Her Experience, and Tells What Saved Her Life.

Rivesville, W. Va.—Mrs. Dora Martin, of this place, says: "For three years I suffered with womanly troubles. I had dragging-down feelings and I had such pains in my back and side! I was nervous, and could not sleep at night. The doctor could not help me.

He said I would have to be operated on before I could get better, so I thought I would try using Cardui. I took the Cardui treatment, and now I am entirely well. I am sure Cardui saved my life."

For more than half a century Cardui has been used successfully to prevent unnecessary pains, caused by womanly troubles, such as headache, backache, side ache, dragging sensations, etc.

Cardui is a woman's tonic—a strengthening medicine for women, made from ingredients that act specifically on the womanly organs, and thus help to build up the womanly constitution to glowing good health.

Cardui goes to the spot—reaches the trouble—relieves the symptoms, and drives away the cause.

If you are a woman suffering from any symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardui. It will help you.

WARM WELCOME AWAITS MISS GERALDINE FARRAR

MISS GERALDINE FARRAR

As the Goose Girl in "Koenigskinder," Humperdinck's new opera, which will be presented in Atlanta by the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company. This is an entirely new picture of Miss Farrar, not heretofore seen here.

Among the world-famed grand opera stars who will be welcomed again to Atlanta when the Metropolitan Opera Company, of New York, returns for another engagement in April, none will receive a heartier or more cordial greeting than that which will be accorded dainty Miss Geraldine Farrar.

Miss Farrar has a wonderful soprano that has elevated her to the highest pinnacle of artistic success, and crowned heads all over Europe have paid homage to her talent. In addition to her art, Miss Farrar has a personality which wins hosts of friends, and wherever she appears there is a demonstration which shows conclusively that she holds a place all her own in the hearts of her hearers.

Miss Farrar is pleasantly remembered for her visit to Atlanta with the opera company last year and the wonderful success which characterized her appearance in "Tosca" and "Madame Butterfly."

Although she has scored many triumphs abroad it is in America that the popular and beautiful young soprano really delights to sing. For America is the land of her birth, and it was in the little town of Melrose, seven miles out from Boston, that she was born a little more than twenty-four years ago.

Miss Farrar began singing almost as soon as she began talking, and it came quite as naturally. When still in short dresses she was invited to sing at a house recital in Berlin. The director of the Royal opera in that city attended the recital and that was the beginning of the remarkable career of the young American girl who was destined, in a few short years, to reign as queen of the operatic world.

CRABBLE'S COLTS TRIM REGULARS

Manager George Crabble, of the Cracker Colts, led his youngsters to victory over Manager Otto Jordan's regulars Wednesday afternoon in a nine inning game, by the score of 6 to 4. Manager Crabble played center for his club and fielded like a veteran.

Catcher Ulrich was the hitting star of the day, the big backstop, who was playing right field for the colts, banging out four perfectly good, clean wallops out of five trips to the pan. Watson and Miller, for the regulars, made three bingles out of four trips up, while Luck and Fenlon got two singles each.

Roy Moran has the honor of making the first home run of the season for the Crackers, the left fielder smashing one between right and centerfields and sprinting it home ahead of the ball, driving Miller in ahead of him.

Three twirlers worked out for each team. E. Mayer fared the best of the lot. For four innings the regulars were unable to tally off of him. The Colts bagged 11 hits, one two-bagger in the lot, while the regulars made 10, a two-bagger and a home run in the shuffle.

The colts started scoring in the first round. Luck singled and went to third on Wells' single. The double steal was worked for a tally.

In the second round, the colts tallied twice. Crabble got a free ticket. The next two were easy outs, but E. Mayer singled. Ulrich doubled, scoring both men.

The regulars made one in the sixth. Watson singled and swiped second. Jordan singled, scoring him.

Jordan's Regs. aded another in the seventh. Miller singled, but was caught napping at first. Moran went out, but Fucich and Dick walked, Watson's single scoring Fucich.

The colts cinched the game in the seventh round with three tallies. George and Scanlon went out. Ulrich singled. Luck was hit by a pitched ball, Wells walked. S. Mayer singled, scoring Ulrich and Luck. Burgess walked and Crabble walked, forcing Wells home.

The regulars made two in the ninth. Miller doubled to left and Moran hit for the circuit to right center, sending Miller home ahead of him.

The notice in The Constitution, Wednesday morning, that the Daffy Daffydils were to be discontinued, has caused a protest from the fans.

The following letter, received from a fan in Jonesboro, Ga., who signs himself A. B. C., a Daffy Duck, is printed below:

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution—Dear Sir: In this morning's Constitution I note with surprise and regret that you are going to discontinue the Daffy Daffydils. Why such haste? We are just beginning to get interested, and here you talk of discontinuing them. Think it over, Dick, and try to keep them going a while longer. I am sending you some in this communication. I am counting on you continuing this amusing feature. A. B. C. (Daffy Duck).

BASEBALL QUIET AT UNIVERSITY

University of Georgia, Athens, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—There is not much doing for the Red and Black squad this week, as the second term examinations are on and this will necessitate a let up in the afternoon practices for seven days. Captain Bartlett is sick and will be confined to his room for probably a week, but will be ready for the opening game. "Kid" Brannen has been kept from the practices for the past week with an injured hand and he will probably be out for a week longer. This will be a drawback to him in getting a good start this season.

Georgia didn't show up so well in the game with the New York Yannigans Saturday, but it is thought that the whole team had stage fright, as the best of them made errors which they wouldn't have made on any other occasion. It is thought, though, that they will settle down and give the Yankees a better and more interesting game when they meet again, which will probably be next Monday or Tuesday afternoon.

Sanford field is rapidly being gotten into shape and the other bleachers will be completed in the next day or two. It will be completed all around—bleachers, diamond, etc.—by the time that the first game is played and will be one of the finest baseball parks in the south.

AT TAMPA.

Tampa, Fla., March 15.—Only one pronounced favorite was successful this afternoon at the West Tampa track, but well played second choices managed to ship in and the talent fared fairly well.

Grandissimo won a lucky race in the fourth from the favorite, Shawnee. In the closing event, Sand Piper went to the front at the half mile and from thence on was never in danger. Opening at six and closing to 3 to 1, the layers were the sufferers. Neoskaleeta, the choice, lasted for the place.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

COTTON WAS IRREGULAR MOST OF THE SESSION

The Market Closed Steady, Net Two Points Lower to Six Higher.

New York, March 15.—A somewhat irregular opening in the cotton market was followed by rather a sharp advance, but the improvement was practically lost in the latter trading and while the closing tone was very steady, last prices were net 2 points lower to 6 points higher.

The opening was steady at a decline of 1 point to an advance of 2 points, and active positions sold 2 to 4 points net lower right after the call, under local offerings, which were inspired by rumors that the figures of the National Ginners' Association pointed to a commercial crop of about 12,250,000 bales. Liverpool, however was relatively steady, supporting orders appeared in the hands of prominent bull brokers on the dips, and the market soon firmed up with early sellers covering, probably in disappointment that the talk of a bearish census report next Monday was not bringing more long cotton on the market. July led the advance with some of the prominent bulls buying that position against sales of May as they did yesterday, and while there was no change in weather news October contracts moved upward about in keeping with the old crop months. After showing the net advance of from 8 to 12 points, offerings became a little heavier following a withdrawal of bull support, and the market during the afternoon sold off with May declining to 14.42 or 5 points under the closing figures of last night. In the last few minutes, covering imparted a steadier tone to prices, and the close was a few points up from the lowest on active positions. Aside from the rumors concerning the probable showing of the National Ginners' figures, there was little in the way of news, and from a canvass made of trade in New York and Memphis it appears that sentiment is prepared for a census report next Monday showing only a little under 12,000,000 bales ginned for the season, including linters. Bearing operators are inclined to add something to the total ginning report for the margin which usually is shown between the final census figures and the commercial count.

Receipts at the ports today, 8,012 bales, against 10,672 last week and 11,384 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 3,430 bales, against 6,787 last year, and at Houston, 1,117 bales, against 1,597 last year.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, March 15.—Spot cotton quiet, unchanged; sales on the spot, 300; to arrive, 420. Low ordinary, 11 1-16 nominal good ordinary, 13¾; strict good ordinary, 13¾; low middling, 14 1-16; strict low middling, 14 5-16; middling, 14 9-16; strict middling, 14 13-16; good middling, 15; strict good middling, 15 3-16; middling fair, 15 7-16; middling fair to fair, 16 13-16; fair, 16 3-16; nominal. Receipts, 8,480; stock, 183,484

Cotton futures opened steady, unchanged to 2 points up, compared with yesterday's close. Sales were about as expected and had no influence on the market. The weather map continued dry, except for a few very light showers in the southern counties of Texas, and this stimulated buying for both accounts. Offerings from all sources were small. Leading longs were aggressive bidders for May and July. At the end of the first half hour of trading, the active months were 4 to 8 points over yesterday's close.

Belief in a bullish report on ginning from the census bureau next Monday caused considerable buying for long accounts during the morning, many of the orders coming from outside traders. Bears were impressed by the bullish gossip concerning the report and were disposed to cover. Liverpool was a buyer in this market, also, and in addition sent over bullish private messages. The small movement attracted much attention. Little Rock received only two bales of cotton for the day. At noon, the trading months were 8 to 10 points over yesterday's close.

In the afternoon session, the market gave way under the report that the National Ginners' association was out with figures of 12,100,000 bales as the total amount of cotton ginned this season. At 2 o'clock the trading months were 1 down and 2 up compared with yesterday's close.

The market closed steady at a net advance of 5 to 8 points.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, March 15.—Reports from abroad were favorable this morning, but our markets, lacking business, made no response at the opening, and the trading was slow and local. Later, the short interest began to cover and advanced prices, but the promptness in profit-taking soon lessened the demand, and the improvement ended. The public is disinclined to enter the market, and price movements are spasmodic and short-lived. Free mill buying is reported from Georgia, and a good demand of distant deliveries is expected. Mississippi reports, some lack of moisture, and the February rains in Texas are said to have been insufficient. Spot markets are steady. The National Ginners' total figures are about 12,000,000, but they are ignored. It is difficult to maintain prices under such condition of trade, and crop prospects are without speculative activity.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, March 15.—Cotton seed oil higher early on reports of firmer crude and covering of shorts, but prices eased off a shade later under profit-taking. Trading was professional in character. Future sciosed generally 1@5 points net higher.

Prime crude 5.64@5.78; do. summer yellow 6.75@7.00; do. winter yellow 6.90@7.60; do. summer white 6.85@7.80. Futures ranged as follows:

	Opening.	Closing.
March	6.71@6.74	6.75@6.78
April	6.76@6.80	6.77@6.83
May	6.81@6.83	6.84@6.86
June	6.87@6.91	6.89@6.93
July	6.92@6.93	6.94@6.96
August	6.93@6.95	6.96@6.98
September	6.91@6.93	6.94@6.96
October	6.40@6.50	6.40@6.50

New Orleans, March 15.—Cotton seed oil: Prime refined in barrels, per pound, 6.70; choice meal, 8 per cent ammonia, per long ton $27.00; choice cake, 8 per cent ammonia, per long ton $24.75.

Dry Goods.

New York, March 15.—The cotton goods markets rule quiet with a scattered trading going on in gray goods and with jobbers ordering very lightly for quick shipment. Underwear and hosiery rule quiet. Silk orders for fall are slowly accumulating and spot business is fair.

ATTEMPT TO FURTHER ADVANCE IN STOCKS

It Proved Futile and Market Closed With Losses in Some Stocks.

New York, March 15.—Attempts to carry further the bull movement which advanced stocks so effectively yesterday met with little success today. The market resumed its forward march during the morning, but the moderate gains made were eliminated in the afternoon and in some cases small net losses were recorded. The tone of the market as a whole, however, was one of quiet strength around the higher prices attained on the previous day.

Wall street ignored the latest feature of the Mexican situation, including Washington's request for the release of certain American prisoners, and sentiment was bullish despite the day's operation. Rather active realizing sales tended to prevent fair-sized advances. Another influence in the same direction was the lessened demand from the short interest which, while still large, is believed to have been reduced as a result of heavy covering on the rise yesterday.

Canadian Pacific was the Gibraltar of the stock market today. That stock, which has been establishing new high records regularly of late, advanced during the day to 218 3-4, a rise of more than 3 points, and closed with a greater part of that gain. No definite explanation was advanced for this showing, although there was a renewal of reports of forthcoming rights for stockholders. Attention was drawn to the favorable position of the road by the official statement of American exports to Canada for the nine months ended January 1, last. These figures showed gains of unexpected dimensions. The Hill roads also displayed marked strength and activity, despite the cautious statement as to prevailing conditions, credited to their chief representatives.

Weakness of Missouri Pacific in the afternoon seemed to have some effect on the rest of the list, which fell back gradually, although there was an upturn just before the close. The selling of Missouri Pacific was attended by reports that the outcome of yesterday's annual meeting had not altogether established the supremacy in that property of the Rockefeller-Kuhn-Loeb interests. Reports from iron and steel centers, as gathered by a trade authority, are in effect that there has been some falling off this week in new orders for finished materials, though mill operations are on a larger scale than at any other time since last fall. Large rail orders are looked for in the near future. The report of the Sloss-Sheffield Steel and Iron Company for 1910, showing a decrease in net earnings of $473,000, presented a marked contrast to the huge gains made by others of the independent steel companies.

London again sold stocks in this market, although not in large amounts. Canadian Pacific was strong in both London and Berlin. Increased tension between Russia and China caused some depression in London and Paris.

The outflow of money from this center continues. It is estimated that the banks already have lost more than $4,000,000 this week, and a further reduction of reserves may be revealed, in consequence, in the weekly statement.

Bonds were irregular. Total sale, par value, $2,686,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Money and Exchange.

New York, March 15.—Money on call steady, 2½@2¾ per cent; ruling rate 2¾; closing bid —; offered at 2¾.

Prime mercantile paper 4 to 4½ per cent.

Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.8385@4.8390 for sixty-day bills, and at $4.8610 for demand.

Commercial bills $4.85@4.83¼.

Bar silver 53⅞.

Mexican dollars 45.

Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds irregular.

Treasury Statement.

Washington, March 15.—At the beginning of business today the condition of the United States treasury was:

Working balance in treasury offices, $24,816,181.

In banks and Philippine treasury, $32,521,786.

The total balance in general fund was $82,295,417.

Ordinary receipts yesterday were $2,322,084, with ordinary disbursements of $936,111.

The deficit to date this fiscal year is $5,383,092, as against $24,603,003 at this time last year.

These figures exclude Panama canal and public debt transactions.

London Stock Market.

London, March 1.—American securities opened a fraction lower today. Trading was quiet during the first hour and prices moved irregularly. At noon the market was quiet and from ¼ below to ¼ above yesterday's New York closing.

Canadian Pacific advanced sharply in the afternoon and the rest of the list hardened. Light recessions occurred in the late trading, but the market closed steady.

Consols for money, 80 15-16; for account, 81 3-16.

Illinois Central, 139.

WHEAT MADE ADVANCE, THEN LOST MOST OF IT.

Storms of Dust in Northwest and Cold Wave Predictions Caused the Advance.

Chicago, March 15.—Dust storms in the northwest lifted the price of wheat today. A cold wave predicted for the winter crop belt tonight had a like effect. The advance, however, was not maintained and there was an irregular close, 1-8c higher than last night to 3-8c below. On corn, the market suffered a net decline of a shade to 1-4c, but for oats a gain was made of a sixteenth to 1-8@1-4c. Provisions wound up 5 to 20@22 1-2c dearer as compared with 24 hours before.

Buyers lost enthusiasm on being shown official reports that in every wheat-raising state, except Tennessee, Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana, the rain or snow fall during February was much above the average. Surplus moisture varied from 30 per cent in Illinois to 320 per cent in Kansas. The floating short interest, moreover, was apparently pretty well eliminated by yesterday's bulge and there was not enough new demand today to carry on a vigorous bull campaign and dislodge the more stubborn of the bears. On the other hand, fresh selling was not sufficient in volume to cause any reaction of importance. At the outset of trading, cables had a depressing influence because of heavy offerings by Australia and the Argentine and on account of expected large shipments from Russia. The rally ensuing lasted fairly well until the middle of the session. After that, the market fell into a rut. May ranged from 90 5-8 to 91 3-8c, closing 1-8c up at 91 1-8c.

No room for corn here and no outlet east made the feeling as to that cereal rather unfriendly. Local shippers were being confronted by resales of their own grain. May fluctuated between 49 3-8 and 49 1-2, with the close 1-8@1-4c up at 49 1-4. Cash corn was steady, No. 2 yellow finished at 47 1-2@48c.

A stronger undertone, notwithstanding light trade, developed in the oats pit. There was considerable buying of May and selling of July at 1-8c difference by warehouse concerns. Mya reached as high and low points 31 1-4@3-8 and 31, with last sales at 31 1-8, a net advance of a shade.

Because of hogs recovering some of an early loss provision shorts turned to the buying side. In consequence, pork at the end of the day was 20 to 20@22 1-2c more expensive and 5c to 7 1-2c had been alike to the cost of lard and ribs.

"OUR 1910 BUSINESS WAS THE BEST IN OUR HISTORY—1911 WE EXPECT TO OUT-DO ALL RECORDS."

Quotation from a letter received from E. G. WILLINGHAM'S SONS dated Jan. 1st, 1911.

Up to this date—March 16th—their sales have gone far and beyond their highest expectations; and if the first quarter of the year, which is now rapidly drawing to a close, proves a criterion for the months to come, their New Year's "prophecy" will be abundantly fulfilled. Their OUT-OF-TOWN BUSINESS—sales to the residents of SMALL TOWNS AND TO THE "FARMER"— has shown enormous increases. They are reaping the certain harvest of patronage in the rural districts that has germinated from "SOWING THE SQUARE DEAL" broadcast; never "hedging" on QUALITY for a possible added profit; filling orders carefully, and shipping stock PROMPTLY, WHEN WANTED, AND ON TIME.

RESPITE IS DENIED EDGAR STRIPLING?

part in a smashup and one shoulder was dislocated. One of his legs was broken while stopping a runaway at Danville. A few years ago he underwent an operation. Stripling continues to get a stack of letters a day, and in one of them was a copy of resolutions adopted by the Albany Woman's Christian Temperance Union, asking for his pardon. His correspondence has become so heavy that his brother, Charles R. Stripling, assists him.

Indicative of the intense interest felt in Stripling's case is the fact that 50 letters and 11 petitions have been received by the governor and the prison commission touching upon his case. From many cities and towns in Georgia, North Carolina and Virginia letters have been received, and in only a few instances have these been unfavorable to Stripling's case.

Danville Wants Him Back.

One letter received by the governor from Danville, Va., and signed "A Thousand Voices," is of especial interest. The letter follows:

"Box 165,
"Danville, Va., March 4.

"Hon Joseph M. Brown, Governor, Atlanta, Ga.:

"Dear Sir: This man R. E. Morris—or Edgar Stripling, as you call him—did more to break up the gamblers, blind tigers, whisky sellers and evildoers in general than all the police officers Danville ever had. This class of people are in great glee over his arrest and return to Georgia. We will take care of him if you will only pardon him and let him return to his wife and 10 children. Respectfully,

"A THOUSAND DANVILLE VOICES."

Judge W. R. Hammond of Atlanta has written a letter to The Constitution, in which he expresses his disapproval of granting a pardon to Stripling.

The letter follows:

Editor Constitution: I beg that you will allow me a little space to express my views in regard to the Stripling case. The first inclination of my mind, when he was arrested and brought back to Georgia was strongly in favor of an absolute pardon; but further consideration prompts me to change my mind. If reports are true, no matter what were the extenuating circumstances, it was a willful and delibater stances, it was a willful and deliberate escape without a severe penalty would do harm to society at large. Others would be encouraged to think that they could take the law in their own hands, and ruthlessly inflict the death penalty, with a shotgun, through a window, in the night time. In my opinion, an act like that ought not to be tolerated or condoned in any civilized state. If a man invades, or attempts to invade, the sanctity of the household of another, it is not, and can never be, a justification for a cowardly assassination. If it is, then let the law-making power abolish all law in cases of that kind and turn the offender, or supposed offender, over to the merciless vengeance of the mob, or the private avenger. Let these agencies be established in the place of a fair and deliberate trial by court and jury. Who can tolerate the thought for a moment?

Offense to Civilization.

If a man seeks to outrage my home, or threatens my life, I can arm myself, and watch him, and lawfully defend my home or my person. But to lie in ambush, or slip up on him in the night-time and assassinate him, is cowardly; and no one can applaud a cowardly act. For a man to take the law in his own hands and wreak private vengeance without court or jury, is always an offense to civilization, and ought never to go unpunished, although there are circumstances where the law mitigates the severity of the penalty; but the cowardly act of deliberate assassination can never be condoned. The surely safeguard of society is the certainty of punishment for the criminal violator of the law.

But it is said that this man has made a good citizen for thirteen years, since his conviction, and I freely admit that this ought to be taken into consideration. A man may repent of his sin, and where the genuineness of his repentence is unmistakable, it ought naturally to mitigate the penalty. If this man has demonstrated the genuineness of his repentance by living a law-abiding life for thirteen years, then, although he now seeks to justify the horrible crime that he committed, this ought to be taken into the account. But, in my opinion, he ought to be made to feel the heavy hand of the law, which he has not yet felt. A free and full pardon, without qualification or condition, would not conduce to the best interests of society. The idea of private vengeance, apart from the agency of the law, is too rampant in the minds of many of our people; and it would have a wholesome effect for the majesty and dignity of the law to be upheld, and for offenders to be made to understand, in unmistakable terms, that they cannot take human life contrary to its precepts and commands without being made to suffer a real and substantial penalty. Men must be brought to realize that they must bow to the majesty of the law.

the proprietor of a small shop in Rose street, New York, some eight years ago.

He employed a small force—not more than twelve people—at that time, and manufactured only coils and spark plugs for automobiles.

HE STARTED OUT FROM THE FIRST—even when his shop was small and orders few—WITH AN ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN, which he has kept up STEADILY ever since.

At the beginning his copy was small and confined principally to motor publications, but as his business grew, he added newspapers to the list, and his copy increased correspondingly in size.

The result is that he has been amazingly successful and HIS BUSINESS EXPANDED RAPIDLY.

Three years ago he started to manufacture MAGNETOS, and the shop turned out two a day. Today the shop is turning out magnetos at the rate of one for every minute of the working day.

This is an example of what a PROGRESSIVE, UP-TO-DATE MANUFACTURER CAN ACCOMPLISH by hard work, AIDED BY ADVERTISING.

Any manufacturer, who has an article that the public wants, can build up a very successful business through steady, persistent advertising.

SMALL COPY RUN REGULARLY, week in and week out, year in and year out, WILL DO THE TRICK for you, Mr. Manufacturer—WHY NOT TRY IT?

A Young Man Who Got Married

I CAN'T help but feel gratified when I receive a letter like the one I got from a young man who was a patient of mine about a year ago. The news in this letter is that he is now married and has the "finest baby in the world." Of course, every proud father says that, but this young man has good reason to feel happy. He probably remembers himself when he first came to see me. At that time he had been thru an experience with a "guaranteed cure" grafter, who had done nothing except take his money and leave him in a condition worse than when he started treatment. This young man at that time had been suffering from syphilis for about two years. He had also tried to get results from a family doctor, whose specialty was not along these lines. The result was that when I took the patient he was in bad shape. I explained to this young man the seriousness of his disease, and told him frankly I could not effect any quick cure—that there was no such thing possible. He believed me, took treatment, and I finally discharged him, and heard no more from him until the letter I received. Of course, I feel gratified. I have had a multitude of cases just as successful. My thirty-four years of specializing make this possible. I am at my office from 8 to 7; Sundays and holidays, 10 to 1. My monographs on this and other diseases free by mail, in plain, sealed wrapper.

ances of God, Dr. Morgan said that He had not shown himself essentially but under some form. "I have no doubt that these were the appearances of the Son before His appearance in the flesh," he said.

Dr. Morgan called attention to verses in the text that told of the hospitality which Abraham shared with God on this, the occasion of His sixth visit to Abraham.

Abraham's Hospitality.

"Abraham offered Jehovah drink, a morsel of bread and the shelter of his tent, and Jehovah, although He needs nothing material, was willing to accept them because of Abraham's great faith and love," said Dr. Morgan. "There is notning shocking in this interpretation of the passage, and the text allows no other way of considering it.

"The privilege of the friendship of God today is that we can set our table for Him in our homes and entertain Him.

"The place for the worship of God is in the home."

In return for Abraham's entertainment, said Dr. Morgan, God made Abraham his confidant. He sent the two angels who had accompanied Him away, and then unfolded to Abraham his plans for the future. This was because of Abraham's faith, he said, and in return for a similar faith in God we today may in a way become His confidants.

Dr. Joseph Kemp, of Scotland, opened the Tabernacle Bible Conference Wednesday morning with an address on "The Attitude Asa Takes to the Law in the Face of Tremendous Difficulties." He applied the conditions of Asa's time and his resources to the present age.

"A few millions at most are all that go to make up the visible church," he said, "but even with these, God helping us, we can evangelize the world. Our attitude should be like that of Saint Theresa, who, when she contemplated beginning the building of a hospital with only three cents, was scoffed at by her friends. 'Saint Theresa and three cents,' she said, 'can accomplish nothing; but Saint Theresa and God can accomplish everything.'"

Lectures on the Prophets.

Dr. Camden M. Coburn continued his lectures on the prophets at the 10 o'clock hour, taking the life of Amos for his special subject.

"Phophesy," he said, "is not the same as prediction. A prophet is not gifted with foresight necessarily, but insight. He is also a preacher. Voltaire said that preachers might plant the dead roots of the Bible again, but that they would not grow. Yet Voltaire died, and the Word still lives."

Dr. Coburn said that Amos taught the world a new thought about God, a new teaching about the relation of God to the nations. The Jews were not a chosen people in the sense that God was partial to them, but they were selected for a certain task.

Dr. Morgan, at 11 o'clock, preached on "The Teaching of Christ About the Spirit." Although there is an absence of any systematic teaching on this subject, Christ gave an apt description of the Spirit in His conversation with Nicodemus, using the symbol of the wind.

A sailor was asked if he knew the philosophy of the wind. "No," he replied, "but I know how to hoist the sails."

"Learn to hoist your sails to the Spirit whether you understand it or not," said Dr. Morgan.

"In connection with His pastoral discourses, Jesus gives His teachings on the Holy Spirit to His disciples only, even Judas was excluded before He said anything about the Spirit. His teachings on that subject were for His chosen ones alone," concluded the speaker.

Lectures on Bible.

Dr. Morgan concluded his lectures on the study of the Bible in the afternoon, taking as his special topic the method that should be pursued by those who teach Bible classes. Among the audience were many Sunday school superintendents and ministers from churches of all denominations.

There is no flowery path to a knowledge of the Book, declared the speaker, and a thorough understanding can only be obtained through the greatest application. However, those who have but little time to give to this study can, by the use of their utmost ability, obtain an insight into the meaning of the Bible that will amaze them.

"The second word indicating the true method of preparation is the word 'live.' If it be true that the Bible never yields itself to indoience, it is equally true that it never yields itself to disobedience; and also that it does yield up its secrets growingly to honest obedience."

Persistence and Patience.

The ultimate purpose of Bible teaching, he continued, is not to illumine the intellect, nor to move the emotions, but to bring the lives of the students into the right relationship with eternal things. To bring about this result, persistence and patience are necessary.

"Our business," he said, "is to state the truth in the simplest way, but never to shrink from communicating what appears to us as a profound truth, because we imagine that those whom we teach are not able to comprehend it. Before a mixed congregation the teacher should gauge the mental capacity of his audience, not as to the truth but as to the method by which he imparts the truth.

"I repeat that in order to teach the Bible in the life of our church we need to capture the existing organizations. If I could have my way, I would make it a rule that the week-night service should everywhere be turned into a Bible school, where the Bible is taught persistently, patiently and consecutively. Let me close this brief series by declaring that Bible teaching is the supreme work of the Christian ministry and of the Sunday school teacher. Let Christian ministers and teachers devote themselves to this work, and the result will be the Bible known and lived by the church of God; and that will mean purity and compassion, living and active, in the affairs of men."

Profound Egotism.

"Twiggs aspires to be looked on as a strong-minded man."

"Why do you think so?"

"He's going around telling everybody that he hasn't made a single New Year resolution."

BIG CONVENTION HELD BY WOODMEN

history of the litigation recently terminated was detailed to the delegates, and when the motion was put the resolutions were adopted with only one dissenting vote.

Eminent Auditor C. M. Hitch then submitted his resignation as auditor of the order, and the resignation was unanimously accepted, the vacancy being filled by the election of C. A. Loveless, of Texas, as eminent auditor.

Constitution and By-Laws.

The convention then passed resolutions adopting the constitution and by-laws formulated by the eminent council, and expressly ratifying and confirming all of the actions taken by the eminent council from the organization of the order to the date of the convention, expressly including all of the acts and resolutions connected with the litigation recently ended in the supreme court, under which the control of the order was removed from the hands of J. B. Frost and restored to the control of the eminent council.

Eminent Physician P. E. Murray and Eminent Cardinal J. E. Penn, in behalf of the eminent council, extended an invitation to all of the delegates to attend a banquet, which was held Wednesday night at the Piedmont hotel, in honor of the visiting delegates, and the invitation was fittingly acknowledged by several of the delegates and accepted by all.

Delegates Murphy of Georgia and Carter of Kentucky, who expressed themselves as having been formerly allied with the Frost faction, made telling speeches tendering their loyalty and the good faith of their former associates in behalf of the order and its present administration, and their eloquent pleas for harmony met with cordial response, as indicated by the spontaneous and general applause at the conclusion of their remarks.

The convention then adjourned sine die, to be reconvened at its next biennial session, to be held in Atlanta on the second Wednesday in December, 1912.

Harmony in Meeting.

The enthusiasm and harmony which pervaded the proceedings of the entire convention was the topic of much favorable comment by delegates representing both of the former factions, and on all sides the order was congratulated upon the happy termination of the internal strife which was ended by the election of Judge Roane as chief presiding officer.

Judge Roane is well known in public life throughout the southern states, especially in the state of Mississippi, where he holds the position of circuit judge of the third judicial district, of which district he was prosecuting attorney for many years. He is equally prominent in fraternal orders. He is a grandson of Governor Archibald Roane, the second governor of Tennessee, and closely related to Governor John Selden Roane, the fourth governor of the state of Arkansas, other branches of his family being prominently distinguished in Georgia, Virginia and Texas.

While strongly opposed to the Frost faction in the recent litigation, he enjoys the respect and confidence of all of the members of the convention, without reference to former factions, and his election to the highest office in the gift of the order was received with enthusiasm by all of the delegates.

Other Officers.

Dr. P. E. Murray, eminent physician of the Columbian Woodmen, has been petitioned by many of the delegates to accept the office of eminent consul, but, preferring to continue in the discharge of duties more in the line of his own profession, declined the compliment, and was strongly instrumental in securing the consent of Judge Roane to accept the position.

L. T. Binford, vice president, or eminent viceroy of the order, was a prominent figure in the deliberations of the convention. He belongs to a prominent southern family, whose members have been noted for statesmanship, and the personal efforts of Mr. Binford have been largely responsible for the growth of the order, with which he is so intimately identified.

J. G. St. Amand, who delivered a spirited address upon the floor of the convention, defining the relative duties and responsibilities of the field and office forces in fraternal insurance, is an expert accountant who has given much of his life to work of this nature, and whose ability has been demonstrated by the success attained by the Columbian Woodmen.

Peter F. Clarke, as eminent banker of the order, has given much of his personal attention to its financial affairs and was the frequent subject of congratulation upon the excellent showing made.

J. E. Penn, eminent cardinal, had personal charge of the entertainment of the delegates, while in the city, and arranged in advance many of the details connected with the convention. He is an insurance man of lifelong experience, and is popular with the delegates from all sections.

Rev. C. A. Loveless is a Baptist minister filling an important pulpit in Pittsburg, Texas. He is a man of unusual force and eloquence, and his remarkable magnetism is responsible for his popularity in fraternal insurance circles. Having removed to Texas from the state of Georgia, he already possesses many friends in this state, and expressed himself as delighted with the progress attained by Atlanta.

The convention held at the Piedmont hotel at 8:30 Wednesday night was attended by all of the delegates. An elaborate menu was served, and eloquent and witty speeches were delivered by the orators of the occasion, which marked the concluding ceremonies of the convention.

ENGINEER SAVES HIS TRAIN AT END OF BURNING TRESTLE

Ludowici, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—Bearing down upon the longest and highest trestle on the Georgia Coast and Piedmont railway, at Doctor's Creek, the regular passenger train was stopped within fifty feet of the structure this afternoon, the engineer discovering the trestle ablaze from end to end.

With airbrakes applied in "emergency," passengers were hurled pell mell from their seats. When they discovered that they had been saved as by a miracle, they voted the engineer their thanks for his bravery.

This is the third time within as many months that this trestle has been destroyed by fire. Detectives have been ordered to the scene.

Trains will be operated to the burned structure, where transfers will be made.

WITH RIVER BETWEEN THEM LOVERS DEFY ENRAGED PARENTS

Albany, Ga., March 15.—(Special.)—There is one bridegroom in Mitchell county who ought to succeed in life. He is one of the sort who not only knows how to overcome obstacles, but is able to foresee obstacles, and arrange in advance for their circumvention.

Postell T. Williams is a prosperous Mitchell county farmer. He loved Miss Susie Golden, the pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Golden, who are also prominent people. The parents of the young woman objected to the young man, and refused to give consent for the marriage.

But Williams was not the sort to have his life plans wrecked by the objections of parents. He arranged to steal the girl. Knowing that she was closely watched, he determined to make no bunglesome job of the runaway. He would take no chances. He worked out his plans, and when everything was in readiness, the trap was sprung.

Taking Miss Golden in his buggy Sunday morning, Williams hurried with her in the direction of Newton. In a little while, just as he anticipated would be the case, Mr. and Mrs. Golden were in hot pursuit.

Newton is on Flint river. There is no bridge at the county seat, an old-time ferry still doing duty. Williams and his sweetheart reached the ferry a few minutes ahead of the girl's parents, and found the negro ferryman, whom everybody in Baker county knows as "Old Ned," waiting for them. He had evidently been expecting them, thanks to Williams' forethought. He quickly ferried them across, and they drove into Newton. Quickly securing a license, they went to the Hotel McRainey, where they were married by Rev. J. I. D. Miller, of Macon.

The bride's parents reached the ferry a few minutes after their daughter had been ferried over in Williams' buggy. They rang the ferry bell, and called at the top of their voices, but the old negro ferryman had turned stone deaf. Neither could he see. The parties on the opposite side of the river rang and shouted in vain, until suddenly, a few minutes after it became known that the marriage had taken place, both the sight and hearing of the old man were miraculously restored.

Mr. and Mrs. Golden couldn't help being proud of their new son-in-law. They graciously forgave the runaways, and bestowed their blessings.
